CARRANZA IS TO STAND PAT

Constitutionalists Propose to Have Candidate for Mexican Presidency

WILL NOT ACCEPT CHOICE OF PEACE MEDIATORS

Villa Fortifying Preparatory to General Assault to Be Made on Saltillo Soon

JUAREZ, May 18.—That Carranza will not step aside for any candidate the mediators may propose for the Mexican presidency is the declaration today of an official close to the General.

"We all recognize Luis Cabrera's ability," the official continued, commenting on the reports that Mexican envoys might suggest him for the presidency, "and we value his friendship for the Constitutionalists' cause, but if the Huerta envoys ever suggest him for the presidency they will shoot wide of the mark. Madero owed his downfall to compromises. Our stand is that the work must go on, with the Constitutional army in Mexico City dictating."

VILLA FORTIFYING FOR STRUGGLE AT SALTILLO
RIO COAHUILA, Mexico, May 18.—Further skirmishes were reported today in the vicinity of Saltillo. The fighting was at long range, and little damage is believed to have been done. Villa showed little activity today, although the temporary base he established yesterday near here is being fortified. It is expected he will direct his assault on Saltillo from the water works east of the city.

DELAYED REPORT OF THE REBEL CAPTURE OF TEPIC
CASABLANCA, Sinaloa, Mex., May 17.—(Delayed in transmission)—Rebel troops under Obregon last night captured Tepic after a twenty-four hour battle.

It is reported that the Mexican ship Pesquero left Guaymas two days ago loaded with citizens and officials, and that that city is preparing to surrender. The rebel troops are closing in on Mazatlan. Its surrender is daily expected. There is much illness in the city on account of the water supply being cut off.

In a personal interview Gen. Obregon told me that he plans an immediate campaign from Mazatlan through Guadalupe to Mexico City. He started this afternoon for Tepic to cut off all communications between Mazatlan and Guadalupe. When he returns he will concentrate all his forces on a final attack at Mazatlan. The Constitutional gunboat Tampico, now afloat off Topolobampo, will be used to bombard Mazatlan.

QUIMET CONFIDENT AS TITLE PLAY IS STARTED

SANDWICH, Eng., May 18.—The eyes of the world of sport in general and the world of golf in particular, were centered today on the historic links here, when play commenced for the British Amateur Golf Championship. This year's entry broke all records, more than 290 competitors having sent in their names and announced their intention of defending the title against Francis Ouimet, the American open champion, and other American contenders. The American competitors included Jerome D. Travers, last year's United States champion; Fred Herreshoff, A. G. Lockwood (Ouimet's friend and counselor) and Charles ("Chick") Evans of Chicago, but well known as these players are on the British links, the star performer was easily young Ouimet, who gained such a sensational victory over the English professionals, Vardon and Ray, in the American open championship at Brookline, Mass., last fall.

FRANCIS JOSEPH AGAIN ILL FROM COLD WEATHER

VIENNA, May 18.—Emperor Francis Joseph, who has been ill for several weeks of catarrh, has been most adversely affected by the present cold, wet weather. His cough is again troublesome and his sleep disturbed. His physicians are trying to persuade him to leave the palace at Schoenbrunn and go to Miranor, but he refuses, declaring state affairs will not permit.

BIG GRAPE CROP
VISALIA, May 18.—Prediction is made that grapes from the country northeast of Visalia will be ten days earlier than last year, and the crop will be larger than any grape crop in the last few years. The Malaga and Thompson grapes are in good condition.

Chester Duryea, Who Shot His Millionaire Father in Brooklyn

Chester Duryea, forty-three years of age, shot to death his aged father, General Hiram Duryea, in their Brooklyn home. The father and family have been prominent for more than half a century as the founders of the starch business in the United States. Chester Duryea was believed to be insane at the time of the shooting. He has been almost an imbecile since he was locked up.

Russian Landholder On Trial for Murder of Prince

WARSAW, Russia-Poland, May 18.—M. von Bisping, a prominent Russian landholder, was placed on trial today for the murder of Prince Druck-Lubeck, one of the wealthiest noblemen in Poland. Ninety witnesses have been summoned.

FRANKFORT-ON-THAINE, Germany, May 18.—Lieutenant Rhode died today of injuries sustained yesterday when his aeroplane fell.

GOV. AMMONS TO ASK REMOVAL OF U. S. TROOPS

Believes State Can Manage Strike Situation—May Ask Mediation Aid

DENVER, May 18.—The report that Governor Ammons plans to ask for the removal of the regular troops from the Colorado strike zone, gained persistency today. No official decision is yet forthcoming, and the general impression is that he contemplates such a move. The strikers favor retention of the regulars fearing a renewal of disorders. Governor Ammons believes the militia will now be able to control the situation. He said today:

"Many notorious ultra-socialistic, if not anarchistic, leaders, have taken advantage of the strike condition to come here and incite the miners to insurrection in defiance of constituted authority of law."

Federal aid in bringing about a settlement of the strike is desired by Governor Ammons, even if the federal troops are soon withdrawn from the strike district. Governor Ammons so announced last night.

FUNERAL OF VERA CRUZ HERO HELD YESTERDAY

ROANOKE, Va., May 18.—The funeral of William Henry Pulliam, the first-class fireman of the United States battleship Utah, who died from wounds received in the fighting at Vera Cruz, was held at Pulaski, Va., yesterday. Five thousand people attended the services. Among the floral tributes was one from President Wilson.

WORLD'S WOMEN WILL ASSEMBLE IN ROME

International Congress of Women Programmed to Discuss Trio of Big Problems

4000 DELEGATES INCLUDE WORLD-FAMOUS LEADERS

Queen Mother Margherita Was Visitor; Queen Elena Sent Formal Greetings

ROME, May 18.—The readjustment of woman's sphere of action in the home, in the field of labor, and in social work, to meet the changed conditions of today were the problems which the International Congress of Women had cut out for itself to solve when it reconvened here this morning.

The opening session of the congress, which has been organized by the National Council of Italian Women, was attended by nearly 4000 women. Of these, nearly one-half were delegates to the quinquennial meeting of the International Council of Women, which closed its sessions in Rome Friday, but who remained over to participate in the congress. It was in fact owing largely to the holding in Rome of the International Congress at this time and as a result the opening session this morning had amongst its audience such distinguished women as Lady Aberdeen, president of the Council; Princess Laetitia, Duchess of Aosta, Mrs. Ogilvie-Gordon, Countess Spalletti-Rasponi, Frau Hainisch of Vienna, Mrs. Mary Sewall, Madame Avril de Ste Croix, Countess Daniell-Camozzi, Rev. Anna Shaw, and in fact practically all of the best known leaders of the feminist movement from all the leading countries of the world.

The opening session, declared to be the most representative gathering of women of the world that has ever taken place, was held in the permanent art palace erected by Italy in the Valle Giulia for the exposition of three years ago. As the building was taxed to its capacity arrangements were made for the holding of the meetings hereafter in the American pavilion, a permanent structure erected for the exposition and which is still standing. Queen Mother Margherita was also one of the conspicuous attendants this morning, while Queen Elena sent formal greetings. The congress will continue in session until May 23, when the greater part of the delegates will go to Vienna as the guests of the Woman's Club of that city.

In the formal outlining of the work of the congress, as announced this morning, that which relates to the home will be disposed of under three heads. First, the necessity of an organization of the home more fitting to the new moral and economical conditions, social amenities, morals and hygiene of today. Secondly, the city home, the laborer's home. Thirdly, the Garden City.

The work of the congress as relates to the readjustment of woman's position in the sphere of labor will include the consideration of the mission of woman in the family with the exigencies of labor; the influence of woman's labor on the physical and moral conditions of the family; the full recognition of the child's social importance, and the opening of new fields for feminine activities that find no employment in family life.

As regards woman's social works the congress will take up the questions of moral and legal aid to minors; protection of emigrant women, pauperism; woman as regards hygiene and sanitary aid and the question of how society helps the subdued in the struggle for life.

The work program of the congress has been interspersed with a pleasure program which includes visits to all of the famous antiquities of Rome, and receptions at the Vatican and Quirinal.

STOCKTON, May 18.—It became known here today that Governor Johnson was arrested Sunday near Tracy for speeding his automobile. The governor wore goggles and a cap and the speed "cop" did not recognize him. When the "cop" later appeared nervous over the affair, Governor Johnson reassured him, admitting that he was exceeding the speed limit. He was released on his own recognizance.

TRAFFIC LAW ENFORCED
BAKERSFIELD, May 18.—The traffic ordinances of this city are now being enforced to the letter, according to an announcement from the marshal's office.

WILL NOT PAVE SANTA ANA CANYON

In Spite of Rumors County Will Surface From Olive to Peralta Only

OTHER SECTIONS CLAIM THE $100,000 SURPLUS

Excess Fund Will Be Needed For Paving at Stanton and El Toro

In spite of rumors to the contrary, the Orange County Highway Commission has made no provision for paving the road through the Santa Ana canyon, at least no further than from Olive to Peralta. There is certain to be a $100,000 surplus when the highway work contemplated in the $1,270,000 bond issue is completed, but claims already put in by sections in various parts of the county will call for the expenditure of practically the entire amount.

No definite plans have been made by the commission but it is tentatively proposed to pave the Santa Ana canyon road from Olive to Peralta. From Peralta on to the Riverside county line the road will be widened and its grades improved, according to the plans originally adopted.

It is certain that a section of road through the recently discontinued city of Stanton will need to be paved. This section is about two and a half miles in length. A section of a little more than a mile from the state highway to the town of El Toro will also be paved. These three sections—Santa Ana canyon, Stanton and El Toro—will require from $30,000 to $40,000 for paving.

Engineer Finley said today that the surplus from the highway fund will be close to $100,000 in spite of the fact that paving contracts from now on will not be as favorable to the commission as formerly. This is owing to the fact that the contractors have a great deal of work on hand at the present time and are not willing to cut prices. Finley said that a number of the contractors up to within several months ago took work at losing figures and this is the reason that the commission has been able to get much of its work done at very low figures.

AUTO SMASHES BUGGY WHEELS

M. Padillo Says No. 48,332 Responsible for Saturday Crash

This morning M. Padillo, a Mexican, went to the city hall looking for information as how best to proceed to secure redress from an automobilist who smashed into Padillo's buggy on West Fourth street Saturday evening about 7:30 o'clock. Padillo said that he was going west on the right side of the street when an automobile coming from the opposite direction struck the rig. Both front wheels of the wagon were smashed, and the horse had one leg damaged so that the animal cannot walk today. Padillo himself was thrown out, and walks only with a limp.

Padillo says the automobilist stopped and inquired concerning the damages, and then went on. Padillo says the number of the automobile was 48,332. Officer Lacy looked the number up, and found that it belongs to a machine owned by M. H. Seaver, who lives on Anaheim R. D. No. 1.

NEGRO SHOTS DETECTIVE; A LYNCHING IS FEARED

FOUR OF COLUMBIAN CREW ARE PICKED UP

Almost Lifeless After Two Weeks of Agony on Open Sea After Leaving Their Burning Ship

HALIFAX, N. S., May 18.—The American revenue cutter Seneca arrived today with four survivors of the crew of the Steamer Columbian, which was burned at sea fourteen days ago. The doctors stated that all of the men probably will recover. They were picked up after having been tossed about on the sea thirteen days in an open boat. The survivors are Officer Robert Tiera, Seamen Oscar Kendall, Peter Delanger and Fireman Mitchell Ludvigsen.

When the ship Columbian burned the crew put off in three boats. Two of these were soon found but the third had been given up for lost. Eleven others in the third boat succumbed to injuries and privations and were thrown overboard. The survivors were unable to speak when the Seneca sighted their boat yesterday.

Were Terribly Exhausted
The men were in a terrible state of exhaustion when picked up. Half crazed from thirst, hunger and exposure, they presented an awful sight when the stalwart blue jackets from the Seneca reached the side of the little craft. They were in despair, having given up all hopes of rescue when the boat from the Seneca came to their aid.

The faces of the survivors, worn and haggard, were covered with long hair and their eyes had sunk clear into their heads. No attempt was made to get any detailed story from them. They required the utmost care and attention to bring them around again and this was given them by the physician, Captain Johnson, the officers and all on board the Seneca.

Survival a Miracle
That these four of the Columbian's men are living is almost a miracle, and when they are able to talk freely of their experiences they will doubtless have a terrible story of the sea to tell the world.

Short of provisions from the outset, they had practically nothing to subsist on.

SUTHERLAND IN GREAT FLOOD IN TOLLS REPEAL ATTACK

Denounces President for His Stand in Canal Argument; Styles It "Astounding"

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Senator Sutherland of Utah denounced the President's canal tolls repeal attitude on the floor of the Senate. He declared that no such astounding proposition had ever been presented to a great legislative body, and to comply would be subversive to every consideration of self respect.

"Even those who intend to capitulate," continued Sutherland, "will raise a question and make a pretense of justifying their action on defensible grounds before acceding to the President's request. National honor requires that we should stand for our rights under as well as apart from our treaties, but does not require that we should doggedly insist on being the sole interpreter of that to which another is a party and which defines his rights as well as ours. Because of the difference of opinion prevailing among the greatest thinkers of the country over the question, I am in favor of arbitration of the dispute, but I certainly intend to vote against the repeal."

UNITARIANS MEET IN CHICAGO CONVENTION

CHICAGO, May 18.—With several hundred delegates gathered from all parts of the Middle West and Central West in attendance, the sixty-second annual meeting of the Western Unitarian Conference opened at the Memorial Chapel of the First Unitarian Society of Chicago today, for a three days' session. A Modern Interpretation of Religion is the general subject chosen for discussion and a dozen speakers will touch upon various aspects of this subject as seen by the Unitarians. Women figure largely in the program, which consists of business meetings, a dinner, several forums and a session of the Woman's Alliance.

TO WASHINGTON'S CHURCH
WASHINGTON, May 18.—The annual pilgrimage to Old Pollock church, where George Washington was once vestryman, was made yesterday by the regents now in session at Mount Vernon.

Thus far no mention has been made of action taken on the offer of J. Pierpont Morgan to turn over the Martha Washington will to the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association, as stated in a letter from the New York financier to Governor Stuart of Virginia.

OHIO MINERS ARE CALLED ON STRIKE

COLUMBUS, O., May 18.—The headquarters of District No. 6 of the United Mine Workers of America issued orders today declaring a strike of all the miners in Ohio. A strike benefit of $3 weekly will be paid all members.

THAT HUERTA MUST GO IS FINAL

President's Last Word to Envoys to Peace Conference is His Elimination

HUERTA'S CONDITIONS FOR HIS RETIREMENT

Must Help Choose Successor and Also to Be Candidate in Regular Election

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan had a final conference today with Judge Lamar and Frederick Lehmann, the American mediation conference envoys, giving their last instructions. It is understood that the President insisted upon the envoys accepting nothing short of Huerta's entire elimination and the rejection of all terms regarding a successor which might place him in a position to force a settlement. The general expectation is that Huerta will haggle at first and later surrender.

The Brazilian minister in Mexico City has notified Secretary of State Bryan that Huerta's foreign secretary has promised the punishment of the federalists for Private Parks' death, if investigation proves that he was actually killed inside the federal lines.

The German steamship Bavarian is due at Puerto Mexico, today, with arms and ammunition for Huerta. The agents of the steamship line have assured the administration here that the shipment will not be landed, but will be returned to Germany. Whether the owners acted independently or on the order of the German government is uncertain.

HUERTA'S CONDITIONS FOR HIS RETIREMENT

A member of the diplomatic corps received today a Mexico City dispatch, based on excellent authority confirming news previously sent out by W. G. Shepherd, a United Press correspondent from Vera Cruz, to the effect that Huerta was willing to retire under certain conditions. These, as outlined by Shepherd, were that Huerta be consulted concerning the choice of his successor; that his successor should not be General Carranza and that Huerta be permitted to be a candidate in the presidential election in July. The understanding here has been that the administration will not consent to anything but Huerta's unconditional retirement.

DR. RYAN KEEPS PLEDGE MADE TO FEDERALISTS

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Dr. Edward Ryan, the American consular agent and Red Cross representative, who was recently threatened with execution as spy at Zacatecas and released only on demand of the state department visited the president today. Because of his having signed a pledge before he was released not to divulge his experiences, Ryan gave only the barest outline of them. He admitted that he might break his silence later because the state department does not think the pledge hindering because it was exacted under duress. He declared that the federalists disregarded his Red Cross badge.

16 ARRESTS MADE SINCE SATURDAY

Sixteen arrests have been made by the city police since Saturday. The offenses ranged from drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons to sidewalk-riding. This afternoon Recorder Wilson sentenced Irenes Sanday to forty days in jail for carrying a concealed weapon. Officers say that much trouble is being caused by people violating the ordinance against riding bicycles on sidewalks.

RACE CLASH AT EL PASO EVER POSSIBLE

Mixed, Rough Population There and at Juarez is of Fiery Material

EL PASO, Texas, May 16.—All things considered it is rather a remarkable thing that there have not been serious outbreaks between Mexicans and Americans here and in Juarez which is just across a short bridge over the Rio Grande. El Paso's population of 40,000 is largely Mexican, and there are a great many Americans in Juarez. At various times, strained relations between the Constitutionalists or the Federals and the American administration have seemed near the breaking point, and El Pasoans have looked for trouble, that has never come.

It costs only five cents on the trolley line to cross the national boundary into Juarez. In that Mexican city, now controlled by Constitutionalists are gathered hundreds of gamblers from North America, racing men, promoters of cock fights and bull fights, and the usual hangers-on of these amusements.

The racetrack is only a short distance from Juarez. It can be reached in less than an hour from almost any point in El Paso. Instead of being limited to a period of days, the race meetings sometimes are stretched out over a period of months. It is pointed out here that the easy money of the race track affords considerable augmentation to the funds of the Constitutionalists—or to the federals, for that matter if the federals happen to be in power at Juarez.

But the race track is not the only attraction for gamblers and other lovers of "sport" which Juarez holds out. There are the cock fights, the roulette wheels, the faro banks, "no limit" and the "ceiling" poker games, and last and most important of all "Keno."

Keno has all the advantages of a lottery, in that a large number of persons can play at the same time and get instant action. In the "sports" are interested, settlements take place every few minutes. With the odds large enough because of so many players the winner draws down a considerable pot for the amount invested. In playing this favorite of the Juarezites every player gets for a small fee, usually ten cents, a card which bears from fifty to one hundred numbers. With one hundred persons taking part, this would make a pot of $10 from which would be deducted the bank's commission. A "house" employee draws duplicate numbers from a box slowly, calling them out to the waiting men, who have their cards before them, with little bits of gun wadding ready to be stuck upon the numbers upon their cards, as these are announced by the caller. The first man to complete a row of three numbers covered with gun wadding shouts "Keno," and he gets the pot.

As in all gambling games, the possibilities for an argument resulting in a general melee are tremendous, especially when the character of the hot blooded Mexicans is taken into consideration. The trouble about such a fight is that the Mexicans want to get their knives into action, or indulge in a little shooting, in which latter phase the cowboy element from Texas is only too ready to accommodate them. Then there is no police force worthy of the name in Juarez and in the event of a real riot lasting over a period of days the only appeal which could be made would be to Villa. And many of the Mexicans themselves would rather their city be pulled down about their ears than appeal to him, knowing full well what would probably follow should the soldiers be "turned loose" following the "saving" of the city. They figure that while the city might be saved, it would be saved for the Constitutionalists soldiers, and not for the inhabitants.

With all the gambling, cockfighting and horseracing that one's heart could wish, if one's heart desires this sort of thing, it is little wonder that a tremendous number of men fond of that sort of thing, the very character of men, usually, who are most prone to trouble of a more serious character, has been drawn to the little Mexican city.

FOREST FIRE SEASON GETS EARLY START

The first reports of forest fires have begun to come in to Washington from the national forests, and they indicate to the federal officers an early start of the fire season with unfavorable weather conditions from the very beginning. In the Northwest there was less snow on the mountains at the end of the winter than for many years past. Railroad rights of way which were last year deep in snow are reported clear now and dry enough to burn readily.

From the Canadian border to Mexico the reports are similar, and there have already been extensive fires in California and Arizona. The chief forester reports, however, that the fire-fighting forces of the service are organized better than ever before, particularly in respect to the fire detection system of lookout stations. By means of these stations fires are reported quickly and accurately so that the control forces may be on the ground at the earliest possible moment.

In those states where the gravest danger threatens, special efforts are being made by the government foresters and by co-operative fire protection associations organized among timberland owners to secure care with fire on the part of campers, prospectors, loggers and by railroads. The North-western Forestry and Conservation Association, with headquarters at Portland, Oregon, is one of the leaders in this campaign.

CITY BEAUTIFUL PARK COMMITTEE IS ANNOUNCED

Next Monday we will announce the names of street boosters for all the streets north and south of Chapman avenue and east and west of Glassell street, who will be expected to get busy and stay busy talking Clean-up Day."

LITTLE FARM LAND IN THE ANGELES FOREST

Reports submitted by experts of the Bureau of Soils and the Forest Service on the Cajon and Tejuco land classification projects, on the Angeles National Forest, have been approved by the secretary of agriculture. The total area of the Cajon project is 143,333 acres, of which 32,800 acres are privately owned. None of this land is classified as agricultural under present conditions, although final classification of 7,147 acres was suspended pending further consideration of watershed features.

The total area of the Tejuco project in round numbers is 164,000 acres, of which 21,800 acres are in private ownership; 141,772 acres were classified as non-agricultural, and final classification was suspended as to 767 acres pending the result of further investigation.

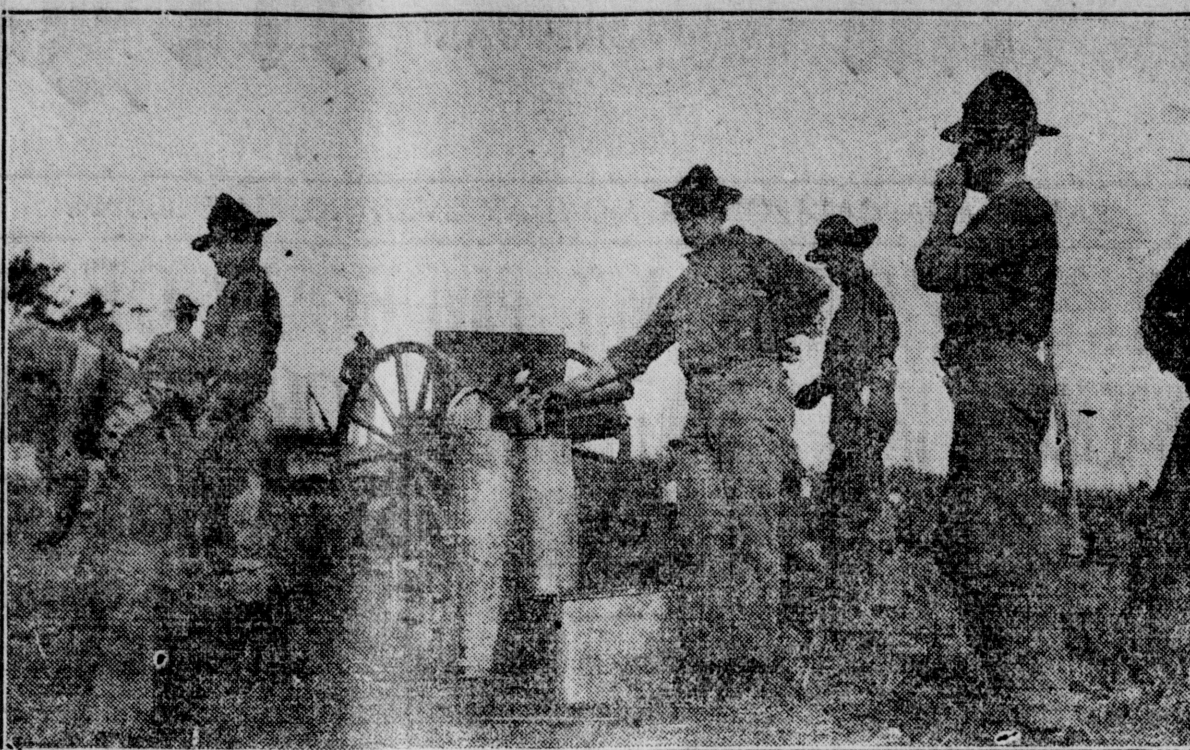

Only 310 acres, situated in townships 2 and 3 north, range 14 west, were classified as chiefly valuable for agriculture under present conditions. These areas will be listed with the Department of the Interior to be opened to entry by the first qualified applicant, at the Los Angeles Land Office after the land is resorted to entry.

COMPLAINT BRINGS RESULTS QUICKLY

Newport News: City Health Officer Porter is in receipt of a letter from the State Board of Health, stating that the attention of Los Angeles packing houses had been called to the fact that complaint had been made from Newport Beach that meat was shipped from Los Angeles to this city that was not properly wrapped and therefore was accessible to flies. The State Board of Health said that there would probably be no further cause for complaint on this ground.

FIELD GUNS WHICH MARINIS NOW USE IN THEIR CONTROL OF VERA CRUZ

Battleships of the American fleet now at Vera Cruz have innumerable field guns for use of marines on shore, and many of these have been landed and used by the force of which Major Smedley Butler is in charge. This photograph shows marines using the guns in the open. They do not accomplish the destruction of heavy cannon, but they can be moved rapidly over poor roads, and they are sufficient, it is considered, for all purposes in Mexico except bombardment of a city. If the troops of the United States or marines march on to Mexico City it is likely that scores of these guns will be taken along because they can be more easily handled on the high mountain roads.

REPUBLICANS OF THIS COUNTY ASK NEEDHAM TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

Saturday afternoon the Republican County Central Committee of Orange County passed a motion urging J. C. Needham of San Diego, former congressman, to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman in this, the eleventh California district. Needham, who was present, stated that within eight or ten days he would make up his mind as to whether or not he will run. Local Republican leaders say that if Needham runs he will get the nomination without opposition.

The Republican Central Committee met at the city hall with J. S. Howard of Anaheim presiding and A. P. Dresser of Santa Ana secretary. After some routine business, Needham, who was present on invitation of the club, was called on for a speech.

Needham lived at Modesto until a year or two ago, when he moved to San Diego. When he was first elected congressman in 1898, Orange county was in his district. In opening his address Needham stated that he well remembered his first nomination, which he secured at a convention held at Newport Beach. He was elected the first term by 113 majority in a district that extended from the Mexican line to San Benito county. He served fourteen years, most of the time on the ways and means committee of the House.

"I returned from the East yesterday," said the speaker, "and I am certain of my statement when I say to you that this is going to be a Republican year. In private conversation, Democratic congressmen admit that the next House is going to be Republican. The Senate will be changed with more difficulty, as many of the vacancies occur in Democratic states."

"A short time ago I got a telegram signed by 100 citrus fruit growers asking that I make the race for congress from this district. I deferred answer, but will make it soon. I hope that each of you by letter, or by speaking to me today, will tell me whether or not you think it advisable for me to run."

"I know the situation in the East, and I say that it is absolutely essential that this district be represented by a protectionist, and that this district must be redeemed from Democratic representation. This is the leading citrus fruit district in the United States. If you return a Democrat to Congress, it is notice to those who make the tariffs that this district is satisfied with Congressman Kettner's vote on the Underwood bill."

"While running for office, every Democrat now in Congress from California promised to vote to maintain the tariffs then upon products of their respective districts. Yet they all voted for the Underwood bill, which, as you know, cut citrus fruit tariffs four-tenths of a cent a pound."

Needham said that Representative Harrison, after resigning to become governor general of the Philippines, had more influence in selecting 4 of a cent instead of 1 of a cent than did Congressmen Kettner, Church and Baker, who fought for the 5-cent rate. Harrison, who had represented an importing district, got the tariff shoved as low as possible, though California's Democrats protested.

Needham said that the sugar beet industry was hard hit, since, after March, 1916, sugar will go on the free list unless the Republicans can get control of both houses of congress.

Needham said that the matter of representation in congress is of great importance to this district on account of the citrus fruits and sugar beet industries alone, and that Orange county is vitally interested in both industries.

Following Needham's address, L. A. West and Walter Eden were called upon and gave short talks.

R. Y. Williams then stated that he was present at the convention that nominated Needham in 1898, and that Needham's record was always that of a straight-forward, straight Republican. Williams moved that the central committee urge Needham to run and endorse him for the position. S. Arnold of Orange seconded. A rising vote was taken, and the motion carried unanimously.

FOR THE WORKER IN SOIL

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Mr. American Farmer, C. P. A. that's what the United States Department of Agriculture is endeavoring to make out of the tiller of the soil. And the up-to-date farmer is almost equal to a Certified Public Accountant. He determines the cost, income and profit of each individual enterprise on the farm. He knows about the Taylor Efficiency System or something like it to determine the management and use of man labor, horse labor and farm machinery. The cost of living on the farm is figured out in detail and savings discovered through the bookkeeping records.

Farm cost accounting is a science. The department gives it considerable attention. Mr. Farmer is advised that commercial cost accounting will not necessarily do for the farm. The thing which distinguishes it from ordinary business is that the farm, in addition to being business and factory combined, is a home. And the home finances are so involved in those of the farm that it is necessary to use care and thought to avoid confusing the farmer's personal business as a man with his business as a farmer. He may make a profit in his farming operations and still be falling behind by reason of his high personal and living expenses; or he may not be making two per cent on his investment and yet forge ahead by keeping down personal expenses.

The Department of Agriculture pointed out in its latest bulletin that by keeping complete farm cost records these conditions can be shown in their true light and the farmer—if he is a C. P. A.—enabled to discover the weak spots in his business organization.

Would you like to know the "factors of profitability" in farming? Professor Spillman says they are:

1. Low real estate prices.
2. Farm products of classes deficient in supply.

3. Magnitude of the farm business, measured either by land farm or amount of labor required.

4. High quality in products.

5. Reputation of the producer; applies especially to the production of pure breeding stock.

6. Advantageous marketing.

7. Productiveness of animals kept.

8. Largest yield with relatively little labor and fertilizer.

9. Low cost of production. (Involves good farm organization.)

10. Stability of profit depends on the staple character of the products.

The country is passing through the third serious epidemic of hog cholera, according to the Department of Agriculture. This year's loss of swine up to date is estimated at 119 to every 1000, which exceeds last year's heavy loss of 110 per thousand. Probably more than 90 per cent of the loss was from cholera. In dollars this loss amounts to the immense sum of $73,000,000.

This is the third serious epidemic in thirty years. The first period reached its climax in 1886 to 1887 and the ratio was 134 per thousand head. The second outbreak developed in 1896 and lasted until 1897 at the rate of 144 per thousand. Iowa, the worst sufferer of the present epidemic, which began in 1911, lost over 1,800,000 swine, more than a fourth of the entire number in the state. In the southern states usually the heaviest losers from hog cholera, the disease has abated somewhat, but has increased greatly in the northern states. The tendency of the three epidemics has been in a general way, to move as a wave from south and east to north and west. A reliable serum and strict quarantine are the only measures known with which to fight the disease successfully.

Care must be taken in spraying celery plants, according to the Department of Agriculture, not to poison the consumer with the copper in Bordeaux mixture. But however careful the grower, the consumer must also do his part by scrubbing and washing the stalks before they are eaten. The leaves should not be eaten under any circumstances.

When spraying is done properly an efficient apparatus is used, working under high pressure—hundred pounds or more. Spraying is stopped when the leaves are covered with fine drops and before these begin to run down the stalks and accumulate at the base of the plant.

Ten to twenty per cent of the total value of the American wool crop is lost annually through the neglect of a few simple measures, according to experts of the Department of Agriculture. Poor handling of American wools is so noticeable that the price is inevitably affected and the handicap would be removed to a great extent if all growers agreed to do four things. Sack ewes, lamb and buck fleeces in separate sacks. Shear black sheep separately and keep the fleeces separate. Tie the fleeces with paper twine, which does not adhere to the wool. Remove the tags or dung locks and put them in separate sacks marked to show their contents.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With It to Restore Color, Gloss, Thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

RACE CLASH AT EL PASO EVER POSSIBLE

Mixed, Rough Population There and at Juarez is of Fiery Material

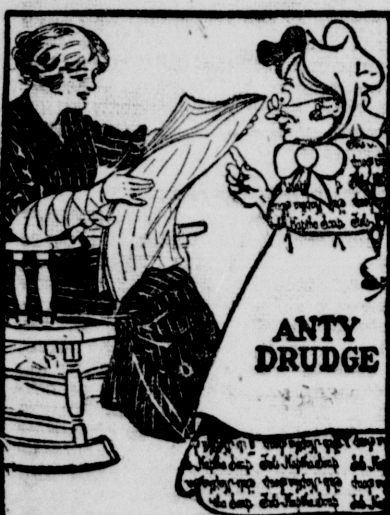

EL PASO, Texas, May 16.—All things considered it is rather a remarkable thing that there have not been serious outbreaks between Mexicans and Americans here and in Juarez which is just across a short bridge over the Rio Grande. El Paso's population of 40,000 is largely Mexican, and there are a great many Americans in Juarez. At various times, strained relations between the Constitutionalists or the Federals and the American administration have seemed near the breaking point, and El Pasoans have looked for trouble, that has never come.

It costs only five cents on the trolley line to cross the national boundary into Juarez. In that Mexican city, now controlled by Constitutionalists are gathered hundreds of gamblers from North America, racing men, promoters of cock fights and bull fights, and the usual hangers-on of these amusements.

The racetrack is only a short distance from Juarez. It can be reached in less than an hour from almost any point in El Paso. Instead of being limited to a period of days, the race meetings sometimes are stretched out over a period of months. It is pointed out here that the easy money of the race track affords considerable augmentation to the funds of the Constitutionalists—or to the federals, for that matter if the federals happen to be in power at Juarez.

But the race track is not the only attraction for gamblers and other lovers of "sport" which Juarez holds out. There are the cock fights, the roulette wheels, the faro banks, "no limit but the ceiling" poker games, and last and not least, the "keno."

Keno has all the advantages of a lottery, in that a large number of persons can play at the same time and get instant action. If the "sports" are interested, settlements take place every few minutes. With the odds large enough because of so many players the winner draws down a considerable pot for the amount invested. In playing this favorite of the Juarezites every player gets for a small fee, usually ten cents, a card which bears from fifty to one hundred numbers. With one hundred persons taking part, this would make a pot of $10,000.

Mrs. Payne—"Here's an article says: 'If your arm was long enough to touch the sun and burn your fingers you would not feel the pain for 6792 years.' I wish my arm was so long I couldn't feel the pain where I scalded it in the old washboiler yesterday."

Any Drudge—"I certainly am sorry for the way you are suffering, but I hope it will teach you a lesson to use Fels-Naptha Soap after this in cool or lukewarm water and not fool with washboilers or hot water."

from which would be deducted the bank's commission.

A "house" employee draws duplicate numbers from a box slowly, calling them out to the waiting men, who have their cards before them, with little bits of gun wadding ready to be stuck upon the numbers upon their cards, as these are announced by the caller. The first man to complete a row of three numbers covered with gun wadding shouts "Keno," and he gets the pot.

As in all gambling games, the possibilities for an argument resulting in a general melee are tremendous, especially when the character of the hot blooded Mexicans is taken into consideration. The trouble about such a fight is that the Mexicans want to get their knives into action, or indulge in a little shooting, in which latter phase the cowboy element from Texas is only too ready to accommodate them. Then there is no police force worthy of the name in Juarez and in the event of a real riot lasting over a period of days the only appeal which could be made would be to Villa. And many of the Mexicans themselves would rather their city be pulled down about their ears than appeal to him, knowing full well what would probably follow should the soldiers be "turned loose" following the "saving" of the city. They figure that while the city might be saved, it would be saved for the Constitutionalists soldiers, and not for the inhabitants.

With all the gambling, cockfighting and horseracing that one's heart could wish, if one's heart desires this sort of thing, it is little wonder that a tremendous number of men fond of that sort of thing, the very character of men, usually, who are most prone to trouble of a more serious character, has been drawn to the little Mexican city.

FOREST FIRE SEASON GETS EARLY START

The first reports of forest fires have begun to come in to Washington from the national forests, and they indicate to the federal officers an early start to the fire season with unfavorable weather conditions from the very beginning. In the Northwest there was less snow on the mountains at the end of the winter than for many years past. Railroad rights of way which were kept clear now and dry enough to burn readily.

From the Canadian border to Mexico the reports are similar, and there have already been extensive fires in California and Arizona.

The chief forester reports, however, that the fire-fighting forces of the service are organized better than ever before, particularly in respect to the fire detection system of lookout stations. By means of these stations fires are reported quickly and accurately so that the control forces may be on the ground at the earliest possible moment.

In those states where the gravest danger threatens, special efforts are being made by the government foresters and by co-operative fire protection associations organized among timberland owners to secure care with fire on the part of campers, prospectors, loggers and by railroads. The Northwestern Forestry and Conservation Association, with headquarters at Portland, Oregon, is one of the leaders in this campaign.

LITTLE FARM LAND IN THE ANGELES FOREST

Reports submitted by experts of the Bureau of Soils and the Forest Service on the Cajon and Tejunco land classification projects, on the Angeles National Forest, have been approved by the secretary of agriculture. The total area of the Cajon project is 143,333 acres, of which 32,806 acres are privately owned. None of this land is classified as agricultural under present conditions, although final classification of 7,147 acres was suspended pending further consideration of watershed features.

The total area of the Tejunco project in round numbers is 164,000 acres, of which 21,800 acres are in private ownership; 141,772 acres were classified as non-agricultural, and final classification was suspended as to 767 acres pending the result of further investigation.

Only 310 acres, situated in townships 2 and 3 north, range 14 west, were classified as chiefly valuable for agriculture under present conditions. These areas will be listed with the Department of the Interior to be opened to entry by the first qualified applicant, at the Los Angeles Land Office after the land is resorted to entry.

Newport News: City Health Officer Porter is in receipt of a letter from the State Board of Health, stating that the attention of Los Angeles packing houses had been called to the fact that complaint had been made from Newport Beach that meat was shipped from Los Angeles to this city that was not properly wrapped and therefore was accessible to flies. The State Board of Health said that there would probably be no further cause for complaint on this ground.

FIELD GUNS WHICH MARINIS NOW USE IN THEIR CONTROL OF VERA CRUZ

Battleships of the American fleet now at Vera Cruz have innumerable field guns for use of marines on shore, and many of these have been landed and used by the force of which Major Smedley Butler is in charge. This photograph shows marines using the guns in the open. They do not accomplish the destruction of heavy cannon, but they can be moved rapidly over poor roads, and they are sufficient, it is considered, for all purposes in Mexico except bombardment of a city. If the troops of the United States or marines march on to Mexico City it is likely that scores of these guns will be taken along because they can be more easily handled on the high mountain roads.

REPUBLICANS OF THIS COUNTY ASK NEEDHAM TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

Saturday afternoon the Republican County Central Committee of Orange County passed a motion urging J. C. Needham of San Diego, former congressman, to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman in this, the eleventh California district. Needham, who was present, stated that within eight or ten days he would make up his mind as to whether or not he will run. Local Republican leaders say that if Needham runs he will get the nomination without opposition.

The Republican Central Committee met at the city hall with J. S. Howard of Anaheim presiding and A. P. Dresser of Santa Ana secretary. After some routine business, Needham, who was present on invitation of the club, was called on for a speech.

Needham lived at Modesto until a year or two ago, when he moved to San Diego. When he was first elected congressman in 1898, Orange County was in his district. In opening his address, Needham stated that he well remembered his first nomination, which he secured at a convention held at Newport Beach. He was elected the first term by 113 majority in a district that extended from the Mexican line to San Benito county. He served fourteen years, most of the time on the ways and means committee of the House.

"I returned from the East yesterday," said the speaker, "and I am certain of my statement when I say to you that this is going to be a Republican year. In private conversation, Democratic congressmen admit that the next House is going to be Republican. The Senate will be changed with more difficulty, as many of the vacancies occur in Democratic states."

"A short time ago I got a telegram signed by 100 citrus fruit growers asking that I make the race for congress from this district. I deferred answer, but will make it soon. I hope that each of you by letter, or by speaking to me today, will tell me whether or not you think it advisable for me to run."

"I know the situation in the East, and I say that it is absolutely essential that this district be represented by a protectionist, and that this district must be redeemed from Democratic representation. This is the leading citrus fruit district in the United States. If you return a Democrat to Congress, it is notice to those who make the tariffs that this district is satisfied with Congressman Kettner's vote on the Underwood bill."

"While running for office, every Democrat now in Congress from California promised to vote to maintain the tariffs then upon products of their respective districts. Yet they all voted for the Underwood bill, which, as you know, cut citrus fruit tariffs four-tenths of a cent a pound."

Needham said that Representative Harrison, after resigning to become governor general of the Philippines, had more influence in selecting 4 of a cent instead of 3 of a cent than did Congressmen Kettner, Church and Raker, who fought for the 5-cent rate. Harrison, who had represented an importing district, got the tariff shoved as low as possible, though California's Democrats protested.

Needham said that the sugar beet industry was hard hit, since, after March, 1916, sugar will go on the free list unless the Republicans can get control of both houses of congress.

Needham said that the matter of representation in congress is of great importance to this district on account of the citrus fruits and sugar beet industries alone, and that Orange county is vitally interested in both industries.

Following Needham's address, L. A. West and Walter Eden were called upon and gave short talks.

R. Y. Williams then stated that he was present at the convention that nominated Needham in 1898, and that Needham's record was always that of a straight-forward, straight Republican. Williams moved that the central committee urge Needham to run and endorse him for the position. S. Armor of Orange seconded. A rising vote was taken, and the motion carried unanimously.

FOR THE WORKER IN SOIL

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Mr. American Farmer, C. P. A.: that's what the United States Department of Agriculture is endeavoring to make out of the tiller of the soil. And the up-to-date farmer is almost equal to a Certified Public Accountant. He determines the cost, income and profit of each individual enterprise on the farm. He knows about the Taylor Efficiency System or something like it to determine the management and use of man labor, horse labor and farm machinery. He may make a profit in his farming operations and still be falling behind by reason of his high personal and living expenses; or he may not be making two per cent on his investment and yet get ahead by keeping down personal expenses.

The Department of Agriculture pointed out in its latest bulletin that by keeping complete farm cost records these conditions can be shown in their true light and the farmer—if he is a C. P. A.—enabled to discover the weak spots in his business organization.

ORANGEMEN ARE CHAMPS; STAGS TRAMPLE VISITORS IN SAD GAME

Stags Get 19 Runs in Teapot Tempest Game Here Yesterday

Deck's Stags unmercifully trampled on an eleventh-hour substitute team sent down from Los Angeles yesterday afternoon to take the place of the El Monte nine. When the storm clouds had rolled away from the little teapot tempest the score stood 19 to 1.

It was a sad, fantastic game. It was nightmarish throughout and the only thing the fans could hold against the Stags was that the game was not a shut-out. How it came that the South Main Street Merchants managed to wedge in that solitary run in the first inning will remain one of the eternal mysteries of local baseball. The Merchants scored without a hit having been made. They sacrificed a man around to third and with two down, sent a man across the platter, as a result of McGaffrey's failure to connect with a peg to home. Eleven of the Stag's runs were made in the eighth. Rank was tapped for 16 hits and Brown for four.

Santa Ana Polytechnic high school came within two runs of winning the county championship Saturday from Orange. The game was played at Anaheim and drew a large crowd of rooters from both Santa Ana and Orange. When the smoke of battle cleared the score stood, Poly 3, Orange 4. Brown and Carrillo rambled across the plate in the fourth. Warren was pitching excellent ball and it looked like a sure thing for the Polytechnicians. The Orangemen hit Warren three times in the sixth and an error by Cannon started things, Orange shoving three runs across the home plate. Duhart relieved Warren in the seventh and Orange got another run. The score would have stood two to four had not Lee Brown negotiated a successful steal from 3rd in the 8th. The Orange men were engaged in a wrangle when Brown started to sprint. Lush looked at the little fellow in amazement. Finally it occurred to Lush that Brown was stealing home. Lush heaved the ball but it was too late. Brown scored. Santa Ana failed to avail itself of the final opportunity to even things in the ninth. Carver, Snow and Cannon popping up little easy flies and Duhart getting no further than second.

GOOD ENTERTAINER

LOS ALAMITOS, May 18.—At the Commercial Club "get together" smoker from 8 to 11:30 Thursday evening the forty-five members present were treated to a surprise by the introduction to the audience by President O'Connor of Composer Bonnell formerly with the Henry Minstrels, who rendered a choice assortment of Coon songs. He also rendered several selections on the harmonica in a manner that raised the dignity of that instrument. He played Emma Abbott's favorite song, the "Last Rose of Summer," which he had the distinction of playing for her in his youth. Upon the program were selections by the Commercial Club's Glee Club, giving an hour of most enjoyable entertainment. Following the program, a delectable lunch was served, including hot wieners, Swiss cheese sandwiches, "O'Connor's" fruit punch and coffee. The remainder of the evening was spent at cards and in general good fellowship. President O'Connor and Secretary Elliott are to be congratulated upon giving the members an exceptionally pleasant evening.

Supervisor T. B. Talbert and a delegation of officers of Los Angeles and Orange county good roads met at Coyote Creek Friday and decided to reconstruct the bridge north of the sugar factory, making it of concrete.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Walter are new arrivals in town. Mr. Walter was formerly employed by the Sacramento Valley Sugar Company at Hamilton City. He takes a position as one of the assistant engineers of the Los Alamitos sugar factory in the place of J. C. Cawthorn, who has taken up ranching as a vocation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Benjamin of San Francisco were guests Friday and Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hamilton, their old friends. Mr. Benjamin has recently been made vice president and general manager of Parrott & Co., brokers, with headquarters at San Francisco and with branches in all the important cities on the coast.

La Camille Corsets

by Mme. Call

—All this week in our Corset Department we shall have Mme. Call, a representative from the factory to explain the merits of LA CAMILLE Corsets. She can fit you perfectly. Pay us a visit this week.

—The LaCamille is one of the pioneers of the front lace corsets, and is holding the lead in style, comfort, and in health-giving and health-preserving qualities.

—We are showing six models in the popular front lace style. The illustration shows one model at $2.50, which is a "winner." We show other models, in the new low bust, at $3.50, $5.00 and $8.00.

—The feature of the LaCamille line is the ventilated back, which is found on every model from the cheapest to the best. This allows a circulation of air, and prevents any undue pressure on the nerves and blood vessels of the spine. The front shield, made on the same principle, allows of better adjustment and prevents laces from marking the body.

POPPY LEAGUE TO BE FORMED

The San Jose Chamber of Commerce has issued the following:

"We have in the course of organization a California Poppy League, for the perpetuation and preservation of our state flower.

"Reservation has been granted by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco to have March 30 set aside as Poppy Day and to be celebrated as such under the auspices of the league.

"Application for the same date at the Panama California Exposition at San Diego has been filed and we expect favorable action.

"We would like to have you individually and through any influence which you may bring to bear, arrange for gathering the wild poppy seed at once, so that it may be sown next fall along the railroad tracks and the highways in your county, and thus prepare for a wonderful exhibit of poppies, on Poppy Day, at the expositions.

"If the school children will devote one-half day on the next two or three Saturdays, they will be able to gather a large quantity. The seed can be brought to the schools, to the newspaper offices or to the headquarters of the Civic Clubs, so that you may ascertain the quantity of seed gathered and in the fall, the proper time for planting, arrangements can be made by committees to have the seeds planted.

"We will in the near future issue a call to form the State League and through the league arrange for a very interesting program at the exposition on March 30.

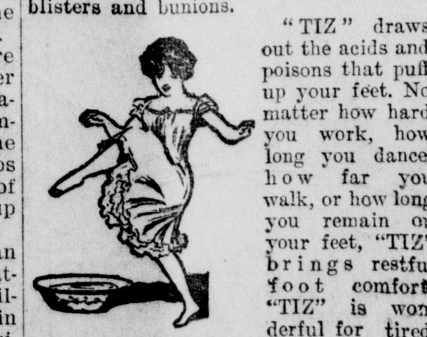

"In Santa Clara county we propose to hold a Poppy Carnival, April 1, 2 and 3, 1915, and have already enlisted the active interest of our citizens through civic organizations, schools, colleges, universities, and the press, in gathering the wild poppy seed.

"We trust you will join heartily in this state movement which will add much interest to our state flower and be the means of beautifying the entire state of California with but little expense to any individual.

"Yours very respectfully,
"SAN JOSE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
"JOS. T. BROOKS, Secretary."

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE--

Tennyson or Longfellow could take a worthless sheet of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth $5000. That's genius.

The mechanic can take material worth $5, and make it into watch springs worth $1000. That's skill.

A ditch digger works ten hours a day and handles several yards of earth for $2.50. That's labor.

A merchant can take an article worth 75c and sell it for $1. That's business.

Rockefeller can write a few words on a sheet of paper and make it worth $5,000,000. That's capital.

The United States can take an ounce of gold and stamp an eagle bird on it and make it worth $20. That's money.

COZAD has built up a large business on West Fourth street by his extremely low prices. That's enterprise.

A woman can buy a hat for $2.00, but prefers one that costs $25. That's foolishness.

The writer of this can write a check for $90,000,000. But it would not be worth a dime. That's rough.

Other grocers may tell you that they can sell groceries cheaper than COZAD. That's gall.

IS MUCH INTERESTED IN ROYALTY CHANGES

The following is a clipping from a London newspaper which was sent to Mrs. W. J. Morris of 1133 West Chestnut street, Santa Ana, whose surname was Campbell and a direct descendant of one of the Dukes of Argyll. Mrs. Morris formerly lived in Ontario, Canada. She is a typical English lady, quiet and unassuming, and has many friends in Santa Ana who will read the following with much interest:

COWES, Isle of Wight, May 4.—The Duke of Argyll, son-in-law of the late Queen Victoria, and former governor general of Canada, died Saturday night at East Cowes, aged 69. He was taken ill a week ago with double pneumonia and his condition rapidly grew alarming. John Douglas Sutherland Campbell, ninth Duke of Argyll, was born in 1845 in London, and in 1871 he married Princess Louise, the fourth daughter of Queen Victoria. He took a leading part in politics after three years' experience as private secretary to his father in the Indian office from 1868 to 1871. He contested Bradford in 1892, and in 1895 was elected by Unionists of South Manchester, and he represented that constituency in the House of Commons until 1909. Later he was offered the governor generalship of Australia, which he declined.

As the Marquis of Lorne he came to Canada in 1878 as governor general and after a successful period at Ottawa he returned in 1883 to England, and wrote a number of volumes, including memoirs of Canada and Scotland (1884); Canadian Pictures (1885); the United States After the War, Imperial Federation, tales and poems, and he even wrote a play.

During the Duke's stay in Canada his name was given to a number of towns and settlements in different provinces, and he received honorary degrees from the leading universities. Personally quiet and unpretentious, hating display, he always kept in the background in ceremonial occasions, the holding of several honorary offices entitling him to a prominent position. He lived in Kensington Place and always used omnibuses going back and forth to the West End and was never seen in a private motor or even a taxicab. He was extremely frugal. He had no children, and the dukedom passes to his brother, Neil Campbell.

OTTAWA, May 4.—In response to inquiries as to what effect the death of the Duke of Argyll would have on the immediate plans of his Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, the following announcement was made at Rideau Hall last night:

"Despite the deep mourning into which the death of the Duke of Argyll has placed his Royal Highness, he has obtained special permission from His Majesty the King to carry out his proposed tour in Western Ontario. This authority was granted as His Majesty the King considered the people of Western Ontario would be greatly disappointed if the tour were to be postponed at such short notice."

EAT LESS AND TAKE

SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

Santa Ana Polytechnic high school came within two runs of winning the county championship Saturday from Orange. The game was played at Anaheim and drew a large crowd of rooters from both Santa Ana and Orange.

When the smoke of battle cleared the score stood, Poly 3, Orange 4. Brown and Carrillo rambled across the plate in the fourth. Warren was pitching excellent ball and it looked like a sure thing for the Poly technicians. The Orangemen hit Warren three times in the sixth and an error by Cannon started things.

Orange shoving three runs across the home plate. Duhart relieved Warren in the seventh and Orange got another run. The score would have stood two to four had not Lee Brown negotiated a successful steal from 3rd in the 8th. The Orange men were engaged in a wrangle when Brown started to sprint. Lush looked at the little fellow in amazement. Finally it occurred to Lush that Brown was stealing home. Lush heaved the ball but it was too late. Brown scored. Santa Ana failed to avail itself of the final opportunity to even things in the ninth. Carver, Snow and Cannon popping up little easy flies and Duhart getting no further than second.

LOS ALAMITOS COMMERCIAL CLUB GOOD ENTERTAINER

LOS ALAMITOS, May 18.—At the Commercial Club "get together" smoker from 8 to 11:30 Thursday evening the forty-five members present were treated to a surprise by the introduction to the audience by President O'Connor of Composer Bonnell formerly with the Hi Henry Minstrels, who rendered a choice assortment of Coon songs. He also rendered several selections on the harmonica in a manner that raised the dignity of that instrument. He played Emma Abbott's favorite song, the "Last Rose of Summer," which he had the distinction of playing for her in his youth. Upon the program were selections by the Commercial Club's Glee Club, giving an hour of most enjoyable entertainment. Following the program, a delectable lunch was served, including hot wieners, Swiss cheese sandwiches, "O'Connor's" fruit punch and coffee. The remainder of the evening was spent at cards and in general good fellowship. President O'Connor and Secretary Elliott are to be congratulated upon giving the members an exceptionally pleasant evening.

Supervisor T. B. Talbert and a delegation of officers of Los Angeles and Orange county good roads met at Coyote Creek Friday and decided to reconstruct the bridge north of the sugar factory, making it of concrete.

He takes a position as one of the assistant engineers of the Los Alamitos sugar factory in the place of J. C. Cawthorn, who has taken up ranching as a vocation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Benjamin of San Francisco were guests Friday and Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hamilton, their old friends. Mr. Benjamin has recently been made vice president and general manager of Parrott & Co., brokers, with headquarters at San Francisco and with branches in all the important cities on the coast.

La Camille Corsets

by Mme. Call

—All this week in our Corset Department we shall have Mme. Call, a representative from the factory to explain the merits of LA CAMILLE Corsets. She can fit you perfectly. Pay us a visit this week.

—The LaCamille is one of the pioneers of the front lace corsets, and is holding the lead in style, comfort, and in health-giving and health-preserving qualities.

—We are showing six models in the popular front lace style. The illustration shows one model at $2.50, which is a "winner." We show other models, in the new low bust, at $3.50, $5.00 and $8.00.

—The feature of the LaCamille line is the ventilated back, which is found on every model from the cheapest to the best. This allows a circulation of air, and prevents any undue pressure on the nerves and blood vessels of the spine. The front shield, made on the same principle, allows of better adjustment and prevents laces from marking the body.

POPPY LEAGUE TO BE FORMED

The San Jose Chamber of Commerce has issued the following:

"We have in the course of organization a California Poppy League, for the perpetuation and preservation of our state flower.

"Reservation has been granted by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco to have March 30 set aside as Poppy Day and to be celebrated as such under the auspices of the league.

"Application for the same date at the Panama California Exposition at San Diego has been filed and we expect favorable action.

"We would like to have you individually and through any influence which you may bring to bear, arrange for gathering the wild poppy seed at once, so that it may be sown next fall along the railroad tracks and the highways in your county, and thus prepare for a wonderful exhibit of poppies, on Poppy Day, at the expositions.

"If the school children will devote one-half day on the next two or three Saturdays, they will be able to gather a large quantity. The seed can be brought to the schools, to the newspaper offices or to the headquarters of the Civic Clubs, so that you may ascertain the quantity of seed gathered and in the fall, the proper time for planting, arrangements can be made by committees to have the seeds planted.

"We will in the near future issue a call to form the State League and through the league arrange for a very interesting program at the exposition on March 30.

"In Santa Clara county we propose to hold a Poppy Carnival, April 1, 2 and 3, 1915, and have already enlisted the active interest of our citizens through civic organizations, schools, colleges, universities, and the press, in gathering the wild poppy seed.

"We trust you will join heartily in this state movement which will add much interest to our state flower and be the means of beautifying the entire state of California with but little expense to any individual.

"Yours very respectfully,
"SAN JOSE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
"JOS. T. BROOKS, Secretary."

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE--

Tennyson or Longfellow could take a worthless sheet of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth $5000. That's genius.

The mechanic can take material worth $5, and make it into watch springs worth $1000. That's skill.

A ditch digger works ten hours a day and handles several yards of earth for $2.50. That's labor.

A merchant can take an article worth 75c and sell it for $1. That's business.

Rockefeller can write a few words on a sheet of paper and make it worth $5,000,000. That's capital.

The United States can take an ounce of gold and stamp an eagle bird on it and make it worth $20. That's money.

COZAD has built up a large business on West Fourth street by his extremely low prices. That's enterprise.

A woman can buy a hat for $2.00, but prefers one that costs $25. That's foolishness.

The writer of this can write a check for $90,000,000. But it would not be worth a dime. That's rough.

Other grocers may tell you that they can sell groceries cheaper than COZAD. That's gall.

THE PAN-AMERICAN SPIRIT

The All-America spirit has been slow coming. The acceptance by the United States of the mediation of three South American powers seems almost the first instance in history where the political ties joining the two continents have passed beyond the realm of formalities.

The idea of a Pan-American Congress dates way back to 1826 and Simon Bolivar. Since then there have been several Pan-American conferences. It is not only an impressive sight to see together the statesmen of all these different races, but it is inspiring to note the harmony with which they discuss technical points in customs regulations.

Meanwhile really vital matters have been tactfully removed from the program. Nothing controversial gets in. A large part of the subjects are merely perfunctory, like resolutions of appreciation. But no doubt these conferences have done good, in bringing national leaders together in a social way.

The American people are principally interested in wider commercial relations with South America. The South American peoples have a morbid fear of American aggression, and they want positive assurances against that. The conferences never seemed to get to the heart of these vital questions.

Now the fortunes of Mexican diplomacy have brought these international relations up against real work to be done. Brazil has been made the guardian of American interests at Mexico City. Argentina, Brazil, and Chile, will try to unravel a tangle in which the United States is vitally interested.

In daily life people never get acquainted when they simply go out to make stiff social calls. Friendship is only created when people get interested in doing something together. Perhaps this mediation may be a step toward a more intimate friendship with the Southern powers.

EFFECTIVE ADVERTISEMENTS

The supposed difficulty in writing skillful advertising, in the case of some merchants, is a bugbear in the way of publicity work. It occasionally happens that merchants never advertise because they feel that they have too little time, or too little cleverness to write advertising that shall have selling power.

Yet a well written advertisement is not a matter of smart sentences, humorous conceits, or literary gifts. It is simply the art of talking direct about your goods and their prices, as a merchant would talk to a man over the counter. Any one who is able to conduct a store can do it.

The force of these statements was finely illustrated in an actual experience that came to the ears of the writer a short time ago. One of his friends is a business man who had had some success in advertising and selling a proposition of his own invention. He had no special gifts or tricks of expression. Yet he succeeded in selling his goods.

Feeling perhaps that a trained advertisement writer could do still better, he sought out a competent and highly trained man in that line in the nearest large city, talked over his proposition, and showed him files of his previous publicity work. The professional writer took the material and put quite a lot of work into producing a form letter. It had all the earmarks of professional ad-writing work. It was smooth, personal, intimate, and clever.

The work was accepted and sent out to the mailing list. The promoter of the proposition liked the letter so much that he expected double returns. But to his surprise, the returns were only about a third as large as those he had previously secured from his own simple off-hand tale, told in a conversational way, as he would talk to the man across the counter. The incident teaches its own lesson to all who are seeking publicity for their goods.

THE PASSING OF MARY ANN

Mary Ann is looming large in sociology. The difficulty in keeping domestic servants is said to be the cause of the apartment and boarding houses of the cities being filled to overflowing.

Mary Ann often gets more blame than belongs to her. For her to be invested with the important task of carrying the domestic life of this country on her shoulders is decidedly novel, but you cannot deny that Mary Ann is the source of much discouragement.

LAND, LABOR AND LIFE

With Cordial Greetings From the Editor

I am visiting at the farm home of my brother-in-law, a mile and a half from the University of Missouri. The other day two young men, students at the university, came out to talk with my brother-in-law about farming. One was a city boy, from St. Louis, and the other a country boy, from Ralls county. They were in the throes of indecision as to what course of study to pursue, what profession to adopt, with a strong leaning towards agriculture, yet with some grave doubts about it.

After they had talked it over and over and up and down with my farmer brother-in-law, he turned them over to me to get the business-professional man's point of view. Now, I regard it as a serious business to try to direct the course of a human life, but I had no hesitancy in trying to hold these earnest young men close to Mother Earth. I told them that if I had my life to live over again nothing could keep me from being a farmer, and that if I had a dozen boys I would, if I could, induce them all to become farmers.

I know some of my friends will smile when they read this, but let them smile.

The other day I rode forty miles on horseback (except the large part of the way I walked) into an adjoining county and back, to bring home three head of cattle my brother-in-law had bought. I landed the cattle safe in the home lot about seven o'clock in the evening. This (for me) stupendous physical performance represented a labor value of perhaps two dollars, none of which accrued to myself; yet it afforded me more genuine satisfaction, gave me a keener and more complete feeling of accomplishment, than if I had sat in my office at home and earned (or made) twenty dollars.

I am not disposed to draw any parallel between Robert Louis Stevenson and myself, but I recall that when Stevenson was farming in Samoa he wrote to a friend much in the same strain I am writing here. "To come down," said he, "covered with mud and ment in many efforts at housekeeping where her services are needed. That the old-fashioned household is passing away cannot be doubted. Domestic life is no longer what it used to be, neither is business life, industrial life, nor even social life.

Railroads, trolley lines and automobiles, the telegraph and telephone have begotten restlessness, and we have become gadabouts. The country line has ceased to be the limit of vision. We lead broader, swifter, perhaps more fruitful lives than ever could be embraced in the narrow confines of the old-time household. While life has been broadening for house-owners and housewives it likewise has been broadening for those who otherwise might be content to remain placidly in your kitchen.

The change, even in the lifetime of the middle-aged man, has been great, and Mary Ann is not alone responsible for it.

Political Statements

JOSEPH M. BACKS

Faithfulness and honesty are among the attributes urged by the friends of Joseph M. Backs backing him for county recorder. While Backs has been recorder only a few weeks, he has fully demonstrated that he is thoroughly capable of handling the job. His natural efficiency, his clerical training and his experience not only in business but also as a deputy county clerk had fitted him for the county office that he now holds. Backs was born in this county, and was brought up in the town in which he was born of the Home Telephone Company when he became a courteous employee. He is known as courteous in his treatment of all who come to his counter, and has a host of friends who are supporting him in his worthy aspirations for election.

HOWARD A. WASSUM

A big-hearted, big-sized man is Howard A. Wassum, who is seeking

drenched with sweat and rain after some hours in the bush, change, rub down, and take a chair on the veranda, is to taste a quiet conscience. And the strange thing that I mark is this: If I go out and make sixpence, bossing my laborers and plying the cutlass or the spade, idiot conscience applauds me; if I sit in the house and make twenty pounds, idiot conscience waits over my neglect and the day wasted."

And Gene Stratton Porter, in "Laddie," makes a farmer father say of his sons: "I don't want their horizons limited by city blocks, their feet on pavements, everything under the sun in their heads that concerns a scheme to make money; not room for an hour's thought or study in a whole day, about the really vital things of life. * * * On land the failure of the bank does not break you. The fire another man's carelessness starts does not wipe out your business or home. You are not in easy reach of contagion."

"Land is the Mother and Labor the Father of all wealth."

One cannot travel about the country, with even a modicum of intelligent observation, without having the truth of this saying of the economist indelibly impressed upon his mind. And then comes the thought that, as usual, Father isn't as faithful and industrious as Mother. Labor does not give Land the full measure of co-operation that is necessary for the greatest production of wealth.

In other words, too large a part of Labor is, abnormally and artificially, applied apart from Land. And that inadequate part of Labor which is applied directly to Land is, in large measure, unintelligently and inefficiently applied.

Not until all men work and the surplus labor of the cities is applied to the soil, not until all cultivation of the soil is equally regardless of the largest productivity and of the conservation of the soil's fertility shall we see the dawn of the industrial millennium. J. P. BAUMGARTNER.

the office of sheriff. One need but look at him to know that he is fearless, and an inspection of his record in the Philippines as a soldier bonds that opinion. Those who have worked for or with Wassum or who have had business dealings with him aver that he is fair and square in his dealings with his fellow men, and that he is as honest as he is big. While ranching on the San Joaquin and later at Tustin he has taken a great interest in affairs of the county, and has given of his time freely to work for what he considered its best interests. He represents Tustin in the Associated Chambers of Commerce, where he has done excellent service as a member of various important committees. No man questions his ability and qualifications for sheriff.

T. A. WINBIGLER

Those who have anything to do with the official work of Theo. A. Winbigler during the three and a half years that he has been coroner and public administrator have no adverse criticism to offer. They have found him honest and fair in every particular. For him it is declared that though the state law requires a bond of him, no such bond is necessary except to fulfill the requirement of the law. Winbigler has lived in the county for years, grew up here, and he has a large number of friends who are going to put their backs into the wheel to help him back into office. These friends declare that Winbigler's excellent record entitles him to reelection, that his services have been faithfully performed and his attitude toward the public all it should be.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON LETTER

By Burton K. Standish

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Personal liberty certainly is getting its bumps these days. No more in many places may one approach the common towel and seek with dripping hands and face a clean spot. The common towel is passing along with many other legislative taboos. Since 1911 fourteen states have enacted laws restricting the use of common towels in public places. Common carriers engaged in interstate traffic are prohibited from using the common towel. Woodrow Wilson's name is signed to an executive order, "in the interest of public health," discontinuing in federal buildings the use of roller towels and other towels intended for use by more than one person. The states which handed the common disease carriers their passports are Arkansas, Connecticut, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Red-head society buds are said to be more common in Washington than in the upper crust of any other city in the United States. Titian, auburn, bronze, gold, chestnut—anything but red-head—the owners of the hair prefer to describe the color. Three daughters of Senator O'Gorman of New York have red—excuse us—Titian colored hair. Miss Murdock, daughter of the Kansas Progressive, and Miss Margaret Britton, one of the local "400," have handsome Titian hair and are inseparable chums. Miss Carrie Lee Chamberlain, daughter of the senator from Oregon, possesses locks of "red-gold." "Carrots" was her childhood nickname, she admits. "Spun-gold" describes Miss Nancy McClelland's hair and Miss Frances Duhin, daughter of the New York representative, has perfect auburn hair. The list contains scores of others.

There are as many styles in swords as in women's dresses, according to the interesting sword collections in the National Museum here. The hundreds of different pieces show the development of the sword as a weapon and as a badge of rank and office. Types changed all over the world every 10 or 20 years, resulting from succeeding wars and new peace regulations and standards. In the exhibits are mementoes of gallant officers and relics from battlefields, recalling tales of glory and honor. There are also Turkish and Arabian yataghans, Russian swords, Scottish dirks, a Crusader's sword, a two-handed weapon dated 1710, Japanese cutlasses, and native weapons of the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico.

CHICAGO, May 18.—Maurice Brown, director of the Little Theater, declared in an interview yesterday that within three years there will be not more than three so-called legitimate theaters in Chicago. Vaudeville and moving picture houses will take their places, he thinks.

Cost of Radium

Testimony before congressional committees is apt to consist of half truths, even when given by persons who know, as witness many statements in tariff hearings of former days. In the radium matter Joseph M. Flannery of Pittsburgh, knows a good deal, and whether or not he told all he knows, his remarks were interesting. He said that his company had spent in three years $650,000 to produce two grams of radium. Thistest $480,000, he estimated, and brought in $240,000. In April, he said, the company would be producing one gram a month. "There is enough radium ore in Colorado to supply the world five times over," remarked Mr. Flannery. "Only 200 grams are need for the whole United States. I will undertake to deliver to the government in five years from January 1, 1915, 200 grams of radium at a maximum price of $80,000 a gram."—Engineering Journal.

THE BATTLE OF LIFE

Life is a battle, you say? All right! Stand to your guns, then, fellows, and fight! Is it going against you, here and there On the battlefield? Well, don't despair! Just captain your forces with greater care! Come on in, fellows, the fighting's fine! Come out on the redhot firing line! It's cowards that skulk and boobies that bawl! When the enemy out of you takes a fall, Get up and go at him again, that's all! The man who wins is the man who'll dare!

Let's fight with a fine defiant air! The man who is licked is the one whose heart Is a peanai, shell on a jelly-tart. He is down and out ere the battle start.

Is the enemy big and strong and brute? That broadens the mark at which you shoot! Does he take advantage and fight unfair? Just strengthen your line, then, here and there, And rush him and crush him fair and square!

Have they got your cornered? Well, don't give in! The day's not lost, if you fight to win! If you say in your soul, "No man is whipped Till HE admits it," your blade is dipped In the blood of the beast you have rushed and ripped!

Do you feel the point of the poignant steel? Give thrust for thrust, till the enemy reel! Give bullet for bullet and blow for blow, Till you lay the insolent monster low! For life is a battle, old man, you know!

Yes, life is a battle—there's no mistake! And the enemy's forces are wide awake, And you've got to fight with a martial skill And at each repulse—back! fighting still! And the name of your conquering sword is Will! —Robertus Love in Los Angeles Examiner.

College's Ten Commandments

The college students' "Ten Commandments" have been discovered at Columbia University. They were published by the Dorms, a paper issued by the residents of Hartley, Livingstone and Fernald halls. A strange feature about the list is that there is no provision for spending a single moment at his lessons. These are the commandments:

1. To rise at 7:30, to retire at 10.
2. To exercise half an hour daily.
3. To read at least a chapter of the Bible daily.
4. To attend the theater once a week.
5. To attend all the important lectures on the campus.
6. To spend a few minutes daily reading periodicals.
7. To get as much out of myself as possible.
8. To read one novel and one play a week.
9. To write to mother every week.
10. To take inventory of myself the first of each month.

THE PAN-AMERICAN SPIRIT

The All-America spirit has been slow coming. The acceptance by the United States of the mediation of three South American powers seems almost the first instance in history where the political ties joining the two continents have passed beyond the realm of formalities.

The idea of a Pan-American Congress dates way back to 1826 and Simon Bolivar. Since then there have been several Pan-American conferences. It is not only an impressive sight to see together the statesmen of all these different races, but it is inspiring to note the harmony with which they discuss technical points in customs regulations.

Meanwhile really vital matters have been tactfully removed from the program. Nothing controversial gets in. A large part of the subjects are merely perfunctory, like resolutions of appreciation. But no doubt these conferences have done good, in bringing national leaders together in a social way.

The American people are principally interested in wider commercial relations with South America. The South American peoples have a morbid fear of American aggression, and they want positive assurances against that. The conferences never seemed to get to the heart of these vital questions.

Now the fortunes of Mexican diplomacy have brought these international relations up against real work to be done. Brazil has been made the guardian of American interests at Mexico City. Argentina, Brazil, and Chile, will try to unravel a tangle in which the United States is vitally interested.

In daily life people never get acquainted when they simply go out to make stiff social calls. Friendship is only created when people get interested in doing something together. Perhaps this mediation may be a step toward a more intimate friendship with the Southern powers.

EFFECTIVE ADVERTISEMENTS

The supposed difficulty in writing skillful advertising, in the case of some merchants, is a bugbear in the way of publicity work. It occasionally happens that merchants never advertise because they feel that they have too little time, or too little cleverness to write advertising that shall have selling power.

Yet a well written advertisement is not a matter of smart sentences, humorous conceits, or literary gifts. It is simply the art of talking direct about your goods and their prices, as a merchant would talk to a man over the counter. Any one who is able to conduct a store can do it.

The force of these statements was finely illustrated in an actual experience that came to the ears of the writer a short time ago. One of his friends is a business man who had had some success in advertising and selling a proposition of his own invention. He had no special gifts or tricks of expression. Yet he succeeded in selling his goods.

Feeling perhaps that a trained advertisement writer could do still better, he sought out a competent and highly trained man in that line in the nearest large city, talked over his proposition, and showed him files of his previous publicity work. The professional writer took the material and put quite a lot of work into producing a form letter. It had all the earmarks of professional ad-writing work. It was smooth, personal, intimate, and clever.

The work was accepted and sent out to the mailing list. The promoter of the proposition liked the letter so much that he expected double returns. But to his surprise, the returns were only about a third as large as those he had previously secured from his own simple off-hand tale, told in a conversational way, as he would talk to the man across the counter. The incident teaches its own lesson to all who are seeking publicity for their goods.

THE PASSING OF MARY ANN

Mary Ann is looming large in sociology. The difficulty in keeping domestic servants is said to be the cause of the apartment and boarding houses of the cities being filled to overflowing.

Mary Ann often gets more blame than belongs to her. For her to be invested with the important task of carrying the domestic life of this country on her shoulders is decidedly novel, but you cannot deny that Mary Ann is the source of much discouragement.

LAND, LABOR AND LIFE

With Cordial Greetings From the Editor

I am visiting at the farm home of my brother-in-law, a mile and a half from the University of Missouri. The other day two young men, students at the university, came out to talk with my brother-in-law about farming. One was a city boy, from St. Louis, and the other a country boy, from Ralls county. They were in the throes of indecision as to what course of study to pursue, whether to adopt, with a strong leaning towards agriculture, yet with some grave doubts about it.

After they had talked it over and over and up and down with my farmer brother-in-law, he turned them over to me to get the business-professional man's point of view.

Now, I regard it as a serious business to try to direct the course of a human life, but I had hesitancy in trying to hold these earnest young men close to Mother Earth. I told them that if I had my life to live over again nothing could keep me from being a farmer, and that if I had a dozen boys I would, if I could, induce them all to become farmers.

I know some of my friends will smile when they read this, but let them smile.

The other day I rode forty miles on horseback (except the large part of the way I walked) into an adjoining county and back, to bring home three head of cattle my brother-in-law had bought. I landed the cattle safe in the home lot about seven o'clock in the evening. This (for me) superlative physical performance represented a labor value of perhaps two dollars, none of which accrued to myself; yet it afforded me more genuine satisfaction, gave me a keener and more complete feeling of accomplishment, than if I had sat in my office at home and earned (or made) twenty dollars.

I am not disposed to draw any parallel between Robert Louis Stevenson and myself, but I recall that when Stevenson was farming in Samoa he wrote to a friend much in the same strain I am writing here. "To come down," said he, "covered with mud and ment in many efforts at housekeeping where her services are needed."

That the old-fashioned household is passing away cannot be doubted. Domestic life is no longer what it used to be, neither is business life, industrial life, nor even social life.

Railroads, trolley lines and automobiles, the telegraph and telephone have begotten restlessness, and we have become gadabouts. The county line has ceased to be the limit of vision. We lead broader, swifter, perhaps more fruitful lives than ever could be embraced in the narrow confines of the old-time household. While life has been broadening for house-owners and housewives it likewise has been broadening for those who otherwise might be content to remain placidly in your kitchen.

The change, even in the lifetime of the middle-aged man, has been great, and Mary Ann is not alone responsible for it.

Political Statements

JOSEPH M. BACKS

Faithfulness and honesty are among the attributes urged by the friends of Joseph M. Backs backing him for county recorder. While Backs has been recorder only a few weeks, he has fully demonstrated that he is thoroughly capable of handling the job. His natural efficiency, his clerical training and his experience not only in business but also as a deputy county clerk had fitted him for the county office that he now holds. Backs was born in this county, and was brought up in the town in which he was born—Anaheim. He was county manager of the Home Telephone Company when he became a courthouse employee. He is known as courteous in his treatment of all who come to his counter, and has a host of friends who are supporting him in his worthy aspirations for election.

HOWARD A. WASSUM

A big-hearted, big-sized man is Howard A. Wassum, who is seeking

drenched with sweat and rain after some hours in the bush, change, rub down, and take a chair on the veranda, is to taste a quiet conscience. And the strange thing that I mark is this: If I go out and make sixpence, bossing my laborers and plying the cutlass or the spade, idiot conscience applauds me; if I sit in the house and make twenty pounds, idiot conscience walls over my neglect and the day wasted.

And Gene Stratton Porter, in "Laddie," makes a farmer father say of his sons: "I don't want their horizons limited by city blocks, their feet on pavements, everything under the sun in their heads that concerns a scheme to make money; not room for an heir's thought or study in a whole day, about the really vital things of life." On land the failure of the bank does not break you. The fire another man's carelessness starts does not wipe out your business or home. You are not in easy reach of contagion.

"Land is the Mother and Labor the Father of all wealth."

One cannot travel about the country, with even a modicum of intelligent observation, without having the truth of this saying of the economist indelibly impressed upon his mind.

And then comes the thought that, as usual, Father isn't as faithful and industrious as Mother. Labor does not give Land the full measure of co-operation that is necessary for the greatest production of wealth.

In other words, too large a part of Labor is, abnormally and artificially, applied apart from Land. And that inadequate part of Labor which is applied directly to Land is, in large measure, unintelligently and inefficiently applied.

Not until all men work and the surplus labor of the cities is applied to the soil, not until all cultivation of the soil is equally regardful of the largest productivity and of the conservation of the soil's fertility shall we see the dawn of the industrial millennium.

J. P. BAUMGARTNER.

the office of sheriff. One need but look at him to know that he is fearless and an inspector of his record in the Philippines as a soldier holds that opinion. Those who have worked for or with Wassum or who have had business dealings with him aver that he is fair and square in his dealings with his fellow men, and that he is as honest as he is big. While ranching on the San Joaquin and later at Tustin he has taken a great interest in affairs of the county, and has given of his time freely to work for what he considers its best interests. He represents Tustin in the Associated Chambers of Commerce, where he has done excellent service as a member of various important committees. No man questions his ability and qualifications for sheriff.

T. A. WINBIGLER

Those who have had anything to do with the official work of Theo. A. Winbigler during the three and a half years that he has been coroner and public administrator have no adverse criticism to offer. They have found him honest and fair in every particular. For him it is declared that though the state law requires a bond of him, no such bond is necessary except to fulfill the requirement of the law. Winbigler has lived in the county for years, grew up here, and he has a large number of friends who are going to put their shoulders to the wheel to help him back into office, should any one come out against him. These friends declare that Winbigler's excellent record entitles him to reelection, that his services have been faithfully performed and his attitude toward the public all it should be.

BLACK HANDKERCHIEFS CHIC

LONDON, May 18.—Black handkerchiefs are now the craze of the fashionable set in London. They are made of the very finest muslin or lawn and often spotted with color, or else brilliant hued initials adorn one corner. Some women are having portraits of their pets embroidered in the corners of their handkerchiefs.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON LETTER

By Burton K. Standish

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Personal liberty certainly is getting its bumps these days. No more in many places may one approach the common towel and seek with dripping hands and face a clean spot. The common towel is passing along with many other legislative taboos. Since 1911 fourteen states have enacted laws restricting the use of common towels in public places. Common carriers engaged in interstate traffic are prohibited from using the common towel. Woodrow Wilson's name is signed to an executive order, "in the interest of public health," discontinuing the use of towels intended for use by more than one person. The states which handed the common disease carriers their passports are Arkansas, Connecticut, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Red-head society buds are said to be more common in Washington than in the upper crust of any other city in the United States. Titian, auburn, bronze, gold, chestnut—anything but red-head—the owners of the hair prefer to describe the color. Three daughters of Senator O'Gorman of New York have red—excuse us—Titian colored hair. Miss Murdock, daughter of the Kansas Progressive, and Miss Margaret Britton, one of the local "400," have handsome Titian hair and are inseparable chums. Miss Carrie Lee Chamberlain, daughter of the senator from Oregon, possesses locks of "red-gold." "Carrots" was her childhood nickname, she admits. "Spun-gold" describes Miss Nancy McClelland's hair and Miss Frances Dunn, daughter of the New York representative, has perfect auburn hair. The list contains scores of others.

There are as many styles in swords as in women's dresses, according to the interesting sword collections in the National Museum here. The hundreds of different pieces show the development of the sword as a weapon and as a badge of rank and office. Types changed all over the world every 10 or 20 years, resulting from succeeding wars and new peace regulations and standards. In the exhibits are mementoes of gallant officers and relics from battlefields, recalling tales of glory and honor. There are also Turkish and Arabian yataghans, Russian swords, Scottish dirks, a Crusader's sword, a two-handed weapon dated 1710, Japanese cutlasses, and native weapons of the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico.

Cost of Radium
Testimony before congressional committees is apt to consist of half truths, even when given by persons who know, as witness many statements in tariff hearings of former days. In the radium matter Joseph M. Flannery of Pittsburgh, knows a good deal, and whether or not he told all he knows, his remarks were interesting. He said that his company had spent in three years $550,000 to produce two grams of radium. This cost $480,000, he estimated, and brought in $240,000. In April, he said, the company would be producing one gram a month. "There is enough radium ore in Colorado to supply the world five times over," remarked Mr. Flannery. "Only 200 grams are need for the whole United States. I will undertake to deliver to the government in five years from January 1, 1915, 200 grams of radium at a maximum price of $50,000 a gram."—Engineering Journal.

THE BATTLE OF LIFE

Life is a battle, you say? All right! Stand to your guns, then, fellows, and fight! Is it going against you, here and there On the battlefield? Well, don't despair! Just captain your forces with greater care!

Come on in, fellows, the fighting's fine! Come out on the red-hot firing line! It's cowards that skulk and boobies that bawl! When the enemy out of you takes a fall. Get up and go at him again, that's all!

The man who wins is the man who'll dare Defeat with a fine defiant air! The man who is licked is the one whose heart

Is a peanut shell on a jelly-tart. He is down and out ere the battle start.

Is the enemy big and strong and brute? That broadens the mark at which you shoot! Does he take advantage and fight unfair?

Just strengthen your line, then, here and there, And rush him and crush him fair and square!

Have they got you cornered? Well, don't give in! The day's not lost, if you fight to win! If you say in your soul, "No man is whipped"

Till HE admits it," your blade is dipped In the blood of the beast you have rushed and ripped!

Do you feel the point of the poignant first of each month.

steel? Give thrust for thrust, till the enemy reel! Give bullet for bullet and blow for blow, Till you lay the insolent monster low! For life is a battle, old man, you know!

Yes, life is a battle—there's no mistake! And the enemy's forces are wide awake, And you've got to fight with a martial skill! And at each repulse—back! fighting still! And the name of your conquering sword is Will! —Robertus Love in Los Angeles Examiner.

College's Ten Commandments
The college students' "Ten Commandments" have been discovered at Columbia University. They were published by the Dorms, a paper issued by the residents of Hartley, Livingstone and Farnall halls. A strange feature about the list is that there is no provision for spending a single moment at his lessons. These are the commandments:

1. To rise at 7:30, to retire at 10.
2. To exercise half an hour daily.
3. To read at least a chapter of the Bible daily.
4. To attend the theater once a week.
5. To attend all the important lectures on the campus.
6. To spend a few minutes daily reading periodicals.
7. To get as much out of myself as possible.
8. To read one novel and one play a week.
9. To write to mother every week.
10. To take inventory of myself the first of each month.

A SCHOOL REUNION

Prof. Howarth of U. of C. and His Old S. A. H. S. Pupils Meet in Santa Ana

Prof. J. W. Howarth, formerly principal of the Santa Ana High School but now superintendent of University extension work of the University of California, is visiting in Santa Ana, accompanied by his wife. Prior to coming here Prof. Howarth sent a request for as many of his former pupils as possible to meet him for a talk over old times and of their present welfare. Miss Lulu Finley made a special effort to reach as many of Prof. Howarth's old pupils as was possible, and on Saturday night last these gathered at the Finley residence and then proceeded to the T. J. Alexander home, 1116 French street, where they greeted their former instructor.

The evening was spent most enjoyably in recalling old days and in discussing the whereabouts and occupations of those who were not present. The evening of reminiscence and brisk conversation ended with the serving of dainty refreshments. The former pupils of Prof. Howarth were unfeignedly glad to see him and were delighted with his vivid remembrance of all of the boys and girls he once taught here. His life has been so full of interest, he has visited so many interesting spots and is engaged in such absorbing and important work at the present time that it would not have been surprising had he been a little hazy as to the existence of some of his old pupils, or at least might have forgotten a few of the names, and even at that been most excusable. Neither of these had occurred, however, so the meeting of Prof. Howarth and his pupils of days past was doubly happy.

Those enjoying the reunion and their present occupations are: Prof. and Mrs. Howarth, University extension work at Berkeley; Miss Nadine Crump (also a former teacher in Santa Ana High School), assistant to Prof. Howarth; Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Mayne, physician in Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Will Paxton, L. A. High School, art department; Charles Hogle, Reclamation Service in Los Angeles; Miss Belle Chilton, domestic science teacher in Los Angeles Normal; James Nourse, night editor on the Los Angeles Examiner; Bert Mansur and wife, Los Angeles Railway Company; Miss Lulu Finley, recently elected principal of new Intermediate H. S. in Orange; Mr. Frank Hunt, North Main street, home making department; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bradley, Garden Grove; Mrs. Myrtle Edwards Cook, Los Angeles; Miss Josephine Alexander, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Santa Ana; Mr. Harry Hunt and wife, Anaheim; Mr. Will McClain and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dresser.

Pleasant Afternoon Spent by Young Matrons at Home of Mrs. Patton

Mrs. M. A. Patton was hostess on Saturday afternoon to a number of young matrons, members of a former sewing club to which she and they had belonged. The house was fragrant with the perfume of roses, Cecil Bruners being used both in room and table decorations. The afternoon passed pleasantly in conversation and needlework, and before her guests departed Mrs. Patton invited them to a prettily appointed table where a delicious two course collation was served.

Those entertained informally by Mrs. Patton were Meses. James Harding, Jabe Hill, Howard Turner, W. H. McClain, Frank Miller, Charles Isaacson, Elmer Bowers, Mark Lacy, Charles Claytor.

The Hike of the Kewpies

There may be some of the Kewpie "23" Club complaining of stiff muscles today, but nevertheless they had a fine hike from San Juan Capistrano to Laguna Sunday morning.

Saturday afternoon and evening was spent in looking over the ruins of the old mission and at 8 o'clock Sunday morning the hike began in earnest. From Capistrano the Kewpies followed the railroad to San Juan-by-the-Sea and followed the coast line as far as San Juan Point. Leaving the coast at this point they went over the hill and struck the automobile road into Laguna. After following the road two or three miles they came back on the cliffs and from there on into Laguna the hikers were in full view of the Pacific.

The cameras were kept busy also as there were many beautiful scenes to be photographed along the cliffs and rocks.

The merry "Kewpies" kept up in great form until about 11 o'clock, when they were forced to stop and partake of their lunch, and the way some of them ate showed how a long, strong hike affected the appetite.

The "Kewpies," eight in number, may well have been very much tired out, as they covered the distance of twelve miles in four hours and thirty minutes, this putting them at the Kewpie cottage, where Miss Elizabeth Wilson welcomed them. After a dip in the ocean and a generous luncheon they were ready for another jaunt, and the day closed with a big "weenie" bake on the beach. Later some returned home by way of an automobile driven by Mr. Kimball of the Guarantee Garage.

Those participating in the hike were Mr. John Limbrick and niece, Miss Helen Balderson; Meses. Anna Clark, Nan Wilson and Lillian Small; Meses. Clarence Nisison, Fred Wilson and Floyd H. Mitchell. Other Kewpies that were at Laguna were Miss Elizabeth Wilson and Jas. H. Parker.

Spurgeon School Program

A splendid program will be given in the auditorium of Spurgeon School building tomorrow evening and will consist of the following numbers: Music by the orchestra; "Soldier Boys" by Kindergarten Band; "A May Day," a playlet to be presented by the first grade pupils; reading, "Gazelle and Swan," Miss Naomi Lilley; music by the orchestra; a comedy sketch by the members of Spurgeon Parent-Teacher Association, "Packing the Missionary Barrel."

Those who will present the comedy sketch which is the most important feature of the evening are as follows: Mrs. Brown, Mrs. E. V. S. Pomeroy; Mrs. Lamb, the widow, Mrs. Loggins; Miss Slim, the old maid, Mrs. Crisman; Mrs. Green, Mrs. Congdon; Mrs. White, Mrs. Decker; Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Clothier; Mrs. Marks, Mrs. Walter Phipps; Mrs. Dimpis, Mrs. Armstrong; Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. H. O. Garlock; Sophia, the Polish Girl, Mrs. Garlock.

Will Present Cantata

Lincoln school will give a cantata, "The Brownie Band," at the Grand Opera House in the near future, the object of which is to obtain funds for an out-door lunch and recreation room. Further notice of time and date will be given.

Two hundred children, from the kindergarten up, will take part in the cantata, which will doubtless be a most interesting entertainment.

ENTERTAINED INFORMALLY

Enjoyable Musical Event Given by Earl Fraser's More Advanced Pupils

A students' musicale is not always the most enjoyable of affairs, but that one given by a few of the more advanced pupils from Mr. Earl Fraser's class at the Orange County Conservatory of Music last Saturday afternoon proved not only enjoyable but more than ordinarily interesting.

The program, made up from charming selections from the classic and modern masters was presented in an unusually finished and artistic way. Each pupil manifested an intelligent conception of the work in hand, its interpretation, style, etc., and showed a technical equipment fully adequate to every demand.

The appreciation of those who listened found vent in spontaneous applause for these youthful performers, most of whom have persisted in their work against the odds of crowded school work and other duties.

Miss Glenna Jean Hill, one of the conservatory's embryo artists on the violin, gave two numbers accompanied by her sister Blanche, which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Gustlin gave a brief talk on the use of the soft pedal, especially calling attention to the difference in its operation upon the grand and upright instruments.

With plans for extended scope and field of work for next year the conservatory will emphasize even more than heretofore the faculty and students' recital features.

Those on the program were Meses Treeta Coulson, Mildred Murphy, Mildred Harper, Glenna Jean and Blanche Hill, Vivian Pierce, Messrs. Fred Forgy, John and Waldo Wehrly.

Will Visit Yosemite

The county supervisors of the state are scheduled to meet in convention at Merced this week. The Orange county supervisors are all going to the convention, and best of the story will take their wives with them. A delightful time is proposed for the party which leaves here this evening via the Pacific Electric to take a through train leaving Los Angeles for Merced at 10 o'clock tonight.

The three day convention at Merced, a special excursion to Yosemite where three or four days will be spent. The Orange county party includes Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Leck and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Talbert and two children, and William Schumacher of Buena Park.

Women's Club to Meet

The regular meeting of the Women's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. B. Uttley, 423 East Pine, tomorrow afternoon. Roll call will be answered by items on "Commercial Waterways."

Those on the program were Meses Treeta Coulson, Mildred Murphy, Mildred Harper, Glenna Jean and Blanche Hill, Vivian Pierce, Messrs. Fred Forgy, John and Waldo Wehrly.

Gets Pittsburg Church

The host of friends of Rev. and Mrs. W. L. C. Samson will be glad to know that Rev. Mr. Samson has been appointed to the pastorate of the United Presbyterian church in Pittsburg. Those who are acquainted with the status of Pittsburg churches say that the pastorate to which he has been called is a very desirable one.

Fifth Street School

The Parent Teachers Association of the Fifth Street school will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Election of officers will take place. A good program has been arranged, and Mrs. F. H. # FOREST FIRES HARM THE SOIL FERTILITY

A definite relation between the amount of humus or vegetable matter in the soil and its crop-producing power as shown by yields of corn, is given in figures just issued by the Department of Agriculture. The department therefore advocates the use of various methods to introduce the required humus into the soil.

Experts of the forest service state that the soils of the whole country, and particularly of the south, have lost and are losing immense amounts of this force of soil fertility through forest fires which apparently do little immediate damage but rob the soil of accumulations of humus. In many parts of the southeast, land is being cleared for farming, and where such forest land has not been burned there is a large percentage of vegetable matter which provides considerable fertility and a good texture. Moreover, this soil has a greater capacity to absorb and retain moisture, and thus is less likely to be washed and gullied under heavy rains. For these reasons leaving out of account the damage to standing timber, the department's authorities are agreed that fire should be rigidly kept out of woodlands.

Miss Converse to Wed Young J. P. Morgan

Miss Louise Converse, daughter of Frederick S. Converse of Boston, the well-known composer, is to wed young J. P. Morgan, the grandson of J. Pierpont Morgan, and heir apparent to the house of Morgan. If this young man's father, who is now head of the Morgan house, piles up money and power as did the great J. P. Morgan, and if the young man about to be married does the same, the Morgan firm will become an institution as powerful as some governments. The bridegroom to be is now in Harvard, from which he will graduate this summer.

Miss Converse's father, Frederick S. Converse, is well known as a composer from his operas, "The Pipe of Desire," presented at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City several years ago, and "Sacrifice," also by his romances for the orchestra, "The Festival of Pan" and "Endymion's Narrative," both founded on Keats' poem, "Endymion." He is a director of the Boston Opera Company and is a member of the Harvard Club of New York.

A SCHOOL REUNION

Prof. Howarth of U. of C. and His Old S. A. H. S. Pupils Meet in Santa Ana

Prof. J. W. Howarth, formerly principal of the Santa Ana High School but now superintendent of University extension work of the University of California, is visiting in Santa Ana, accompanied by his wife. Prior to coming here Prof. Howarth sent a request for as many of his former pupils as possible to meet him for a talk over old times and of their present welfare. Miss Lulu Finley made a special effort to reach as many of Prof. Howarth's old pupils as was possible, and on Saturday night last these gathered at the Finley residence and then proceeded to the T. J. Alexander home, 1116 French street, where they greeted their former instructor.

The evening was spent most enjoyably in recalling old days and in discussing the whereabouts and occupations of those who were not present. The evening of reminiscence and brisk conversation ended with the serving of dainty refreshments. The former pupils of Prof. Howarth were unfeignedly glad to see him and were delighted with his vivid remembrance of all of the boys and girls he once taught here. His life has been so full of interest, he has visited so many interesting spots and is engaged in such absorbing and important work at the present time that it would not have been surprising had he been a little hazy as to the existence of some of his old pupils, or at least might have forgotten a few of the names, and even at that been most excusable. Neither of these had occurred, however, so the meeting of Prof. Howarth and his pupils of days past was doubly happy.

Those enjoying the reunion and their present occupations are: Prof. and Mrs. Howarth, University extension work at Berkeley; Miss Nadine Crump (also a former teacher in Santa Ana High School), assistant to Prof. Howarth; Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Mayne, physician in Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Will Paxton, L. A. High School, art department; Charles Hogle, Reclamation Service in Los Angeles; Miss Belle Chilton, domestic science teacher in Los Angeles Normal; James Nourse, night editor on the Los Angeles Examiner; Bert Mansur and wife, Los Angeles Railway Company; Miss Lulu Finley, recently elected principal of new Intermediate H. S. in Orange; Mr. Frank Hunt, North Main street, home making department; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bradley, Garden Grove; Mrs. Myrtle Edwards Cook, Los Angeles; Miss Josephine Alexander, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Santa Ana; Mr. Harry Hunt and wife, Anaheim; Mr. Will McClain and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dresser.

Pleasant Afternoon Spent by Young Matrons at Home of Mrs. Patton

Mrs. M. A. Patton was hostess on Saturday afternoon to a number of young matrons, members of a former sewing club to which she and they had belonged. The house was fragrant with the perfume of roses, Cecil Bruners being used both in room and table decorations. The afternoon passed pleasantly in conversation and needlework, and before her guests departed Mrs. Patton invited them to a prettily appointed table where a delicious two course collation was served.

Those entertained informally by Mrs. Patton were Misses James Harding, Babe Hill, Howard Turner, W. H. McClain, Frank Miller, Charles Isaacson, Elmer Bowers, Mark Lacy, Charles Claytor.

The Hike of the Kewpies

There may be some of the Kewpie "23" Club complaining of stiff muscles today, but nevertheless they had a fine hike from San Juan Capistrano to Laguna Sunday morning.

Saturday afternoon and evening was spent in looking over the ruins of the old mission and at 8 o'clock Sunday morning the hike began in earnest. From Capistrano the Kewpies followed the railroad to San Juan-by-the-Sea and followed the coast line as far as San Juan Point. Leaving the coast at this point they went over the hill and struck the automobile road into Laguna. After following the road two or three miles they came back on the cliffs and from there on into Laguna the hikers were in full view of the Pacific.

The cameras were kept busy also as there were many beautiful scenes to be photographed along the cliffs and rocks.

The merry "Kewpies" kept up in great form until about 11 o'clock, when they were forced to stop and partake of their lunch, and the way some of them ate showed how a long, strong hike affected the appetite.

The "Kewpies," eight in number, may well have been very much tired out, as they covered the distance of about ten miles in four hours and thirty minutes, this putting them at the Kewpie cottage, where Miss Elizabeth Wilson welcomed them. After a dip in the ocean and a generous luncheon they were ready for another jaunt, and the day closed with a big "weenie" bake on the beach. Later some returned home by way of an automobile driven by Mr. Kimball of the Guarantee Garage.

Those participating in the hike were Mr. John Limbrick and niece, Miss Helen Anderson; Misses Anna Clark, Nan Wilson and Lillian Small; Messrs. Clarence Nisson, Fred Wilson and Floyd H. Mitchell. Other Kewpies that were at Laguna were Miss Elizabeth Wilson and Jas. H. Parker.

Spurgeon School Program

A splendid program will be given in the auditorium of Spurgeon School building tomorrow evening and will consist of the following numbers: Music by the orchestra; "Soldier Boys" by Kindergarten Band; "A May Day," a playlet to be presented by the first grade pupils; reading, "Gazelle and Swan," Miss Naomi Lilley; music by the orchestra; a comedy sketch by the members of Spurgeon Parent-Teacher Association, "Packing the Missionary Barrel."

Those who will present the comedy sketch which is the most important feature of the evening are as follows: Mrs. Brown, Mrs. E. V. S. Pomeroy; Mrs. Lamb, the widow, Mrs. Loggins; Miss Slim, the old maid, Mrs. Crisman; Mrs. Green, Mrs. Congdon; Mrs. White, Mrs. Decker; Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Clothier; Mrs. Marks, Mrs. Walter Phipps; Mrs. Dimps, Mrs. Armstrong; Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. H. O. Garlock; Sophia, the Polish Girl, Mrs. Garlock.

Will Present Cantata

Lincoln school will give a cantata, "The Brownie Band," at the Grand Opera House in the near future, the object of which is to obtain funds for an outdoor lunch and recitation room. Further notice of time and date will be given.

Two hundred children, from the kindergarten up, will take part in the cantata, which will doubtless be a most interesting entertainment.

CONSERVATORY RECITAL

Enjoyable Musical Event Given by Earl Fraser's More Advanced Pupils

A students' musicale is not always the most enjoyable of affairs, but that one given by a few of the more advanced pupils from Mr. Earl Fraser's class at the Orange County Conservatory of Music last Saturday afternoon proved not only enjoyable but more than ordinarily interesting.

The program, made up from charming selections from the classic and modern masters was presented in an unusually finished and artistic way. Each pupil manifested an intelligent conception of the work in hand, its interpretation, style, etc., and showed a technical equipment fully adequate to every demand.

The appreciation of those who listened found vent in spontaneous applause for these youthful performers, most of whom have persisted in their work against the odds of crowded school work and other duties.

Miss Glens Jean Hill, one of the conservatory's embryo artists on the violin, gave two numbers accompanied by her sister Blanche, which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. Gustlin gave a brief talk on the use of the soft pedal, especially calling attention to the difference in its operation upon the grand and upright instruments.

With plans for extended scope and field of work for next year the conservatory will emphasize even more than heretofore the faculty and students' recital features.

Those on the program were Misses Treva Coulson, Mildred Murphy, Mildred Harper, Glens Jean and Blanche Hill, Vivian Pierce, Messrs. Fred Forgy, John and Waldo Wehrly.

Will Visit Yosemite

Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Leek and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Talbert and two children, and William Schumacher of Buena Park.

Miss Converse to Wed

Young J. P. Morgan

Miss Louise Converse, daughter of Frederick S. Converse of Boston, the well-known composer, is to wed young J. P. Morgan, the grandson of J. Pierpont Morgan, and heir apparent to the house of Morgan. If this young man's father, who is now head of the Morgan house, piles up money and power as did the great J. P. Morgan, and if the young man about to be married does the same, the Morgan firm will become an institution as powerful as some governments. The bridegroom to be is now in Harvard, from which he will graduate this summer.

Miss Converse's father, Frederick S. Converse, is well known as a composer from his operas, "The Pipe of Desire," presented at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City several years ago, and "Sacrifice," also by his romances for the orchestra, "The Festival of Pan" and "Endymion's Narrative," both founded on Keats' poem, "Endymion." He is a director of the Boston Opera Company and is a member of the Harvard Club of New York.

A cross, peevish, listless child, with coated tongue, pale, doesn't sleep; eats sometimes very little, then again voraciously; stomach sour; breath fétid; pains in stomach, with diarrhea; grinds teeth while asleep, and starts up with terror—all suggest a worm killer—something that expels worms, and almost every child has them. Kickapoo Worm Killer is needed. Get a box today. Start at once. You won't have to coax, as Kickapoo Worm Killer is a candy confection. ## Giving Mamma Away

A beautiful young widow sat in her deck chair in the stern and near her sat a very handsome man. The widow's daughter, a cute little girl of four or five years, crossed over to the man and said:

"What's your name?"

"Herkimer Wilkinson," was the reply.

"Is you married?"

"No; I'm a bachelor."

The child turned to the mother and said:

"What else did you tell me to ask him, mamma?"

TO PAVE UNDER PRIVATE CONTRACT

At a meeting of Washington street property owners held at the Hospital last Saturday night it was decided that, as the street will need to be paved, it will be more economical to have it paved under private contract and not under the Vrooman Act. Better terms could be had from Contractor Crandall, it was learned. It was also decided that if there were property owners who were unable to make immediate payments these would be helped to have their mortgages adjusted in order that cash payments might be made. All those who attended the meeting voted to assist in the work of getting the property owners to sign up under private contract.

Utah Copper Earnings

During the year ended December 31, 1913, the great Utah Copper Mine at Bingham, Utah, produced 113,942,834 pounds of metal, for which the company received an average of 14.76 cents per pound. The balance shown available for dividends was $8,513,105, equal to $5.37 per share. This is an increase from $5.35 per share in 1912. After paying dividends amounting to $4,747,710 and charging off $507,712 for depreciation of plant, the net balance passed to undivided profits amounted to $3,257,682. The total number of shares of stock outstanding at the close of the year was 1,583,680. The value of undivided profits on December 31 was $9,708,654. ## Inspect Union Oil Properties

The Union Oil properties, which have been sold to the Western Ocean Syndicate and the British Union Syndicate, are being inspected by Earl Gray, former Governor-General of Canada and noted English peer. The man who heads the syndicate that has acquired control of the great oil company arrived in Los Angeles yesterday. He came from San Francisco, having arrived there from Australia Tuesday. He was met in San Francisco by W. L. Stewart, newly elected president of the Union Oil Company, and John Garrigue, treasurer of the company, and by Capt. John Barneson, president of the General Petroleum Company, and they escorted Lord Gray over the California Oil properties. Andrew Weir, who conducted the negotiations for the transfer of the Union Oil Company, met the Earl here, illness preventing his going to San Francisco.

The visit of Lord Gray and his inspection of the Union Oil properties disposes of the rumor that there had been a hitch or split in the syndicate which had made the purchase. This story became current when the General Petroleum Company, which has also been purchased by the syndicate, defaulted the May interest on its bonds. The fact is that Lord Gray, who will in all probability head the British Union Oil Company, Limited, which takes over Union Oil Company of California, is looking over the property, shows conclusively that everything is satisfactory.

Owing to the absence of several officials of the Union Oil Company, this week, the promised letter to the stockholders, which was to have been issued this week, has been delayed.

May Disbursements

Several of the great corporations in the United States in the disbursement of dividends this month exceed the million-dollar mark. The total dividends for the month aggregate $33,040,827 and of this amount six companies will contribute to their stockholders $15,663,157, or almost half of the big total. These companies follow:

	Rate	Stock Out.	Dividends
Great Northern pfd.	1 1/2%	$20,000,000	$3,000,000
Northern Pacific	1 1/2%	24,000,000	3,600,000
Reading common	2%	70,000,000	1,400,000
Amalgamated Copper	1 1/2%	153,887,500	2,308,313
Fulman Company	8%	120,000,000	9,600,000
Brazil Tr. Lt. & Pr. ord.	1 1/2%	102,000,000	1,530,000

The total dividend disbursement of more than thirty-three million dollars are based on a total capitalization of $1,867,073,455. In addition to the dividends to be disbursed interest payable in the month aggregates $1,670,513, a grand total for the month of $114,711,340. The grand total of every class of bonds outstanding upon which this $114,711,340 is paid amounts to $4,007,323,340. In detail the interest amount follows:

	Capital	Disb'mts
Railroads	$1,543,972,000	$34,419,500
Industrial and miscellaneous	547,462,000	15,416,920

Blue Sky Law Indorsed

The blue sky law measure, which will be the subject of a referendum vote at the November election this year, was indorsed by the California Building and Loan League at its recent convention in Fresno. The league has a membership of 118 associations and represents $30,000,000 invested capital in California. Officers were elected at the meeting as follows: President, J. H. Hunter, Fidelity Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles; vice president, T. M. Gardner, Citizens' Building and Loan, San Francisco; second vice president, C. E. Greaser, Home Builders' Loan Association, Pomona; treasurer, Fremont Wood, Citizens' Building and Loan Association, San Francisco; secretary, Leon E. Martin of Equitable, Berkeley. Depository, Canadian Bank of Commerce, San Francisco. Fifty delegates were present at the meetings.

California Oil in China

"The first cargo of crude oil from the United States imported into Hongkong for any purpose has just been received from its California supply depots by the largest American oil concern operating in the Far East," writes Consul-General Anderson, at Hongkong. Continuing, he says: "A part of the large installation of this concern in Hongkong has been given over to the storage of this oil and American oil is to be kept on the market all the time. There has been a steady and material increase in imports of fuel oil into Hongkong in the past three years. The records of the harbor master show imports in 1911 amounted to 17,700 tons, while in 1912 they had increased to 20,424 tons, and in 1913 the total imports were considerably higher, though the exact figures are not yet available. There has been an increase in the number of ocean-going vessels using crude oil fuel coming into Hongkong during the past three years and the increase in the number of motorboats for river and harbor traffic, particularly for use in the Pearl River and West River trade, using crude oil is one of the notable features of shipping development in South China. Heretofore the supply received in Hongkong has been from the Dutch East Indies.

"Imports of kerosene into the Hongkong field during 1913 were the largest in the history of the trade. Nearly all oil interests working on the lower Asiatic Coast have their headquarters for this part of the world in and control the trade from this port. According to the best commercial statistics available, the total trade in oil in Hongkong and the countries and ports tributary to it under this system, as measured by the amount going into consumption, amounted in 1913 to 111,051,240 gallons, as compared with a total of 83,347,000 gallons in 1912 and a high record of 89,104,000 gallons in 1910.

"The immense increase in imports into Hongkong marks the increasing disposition of the companies concerned to distribute supplies for various districts from this port. Owing to the fact that oil can be stored in the Far East at a minimum cost, exports to this field often are far above consumption, the actual amount transported varying greatly from year to year, and depending largely upon supply, demand and prices in other parts of the world. During 1913 both imports and actual consumption were large."

Building Up Gold Reserves

With two exceptions all the great State banks of Europe hold more gold at this time than at the opening of the year," says the New York Evening Post. "Those exceptions are the Banks of Switzerland and Norway. The Bank of France's gold is $27,235,000 more than on January 1, that of the Bank of Germany $28,730,000 more, and the Bank of Russia $27,325,000 more. Taking the totals of these three institutions, apart entirely from all others, it is seen that since the opening of the year $83,300,000 gold has been absorbed into their reserves; an amount equal to the bulk of the world's entire gold output of the period, which has been approximately $100,000,000.

"Two of these institutions, the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Russia, hold at the present time—because of their gold accumulations since the opening of the year—more gold than at any previous time in their existence. Yet these two, with the Bank of France, whose gold holdings are greater than at any previous time except 1899, have appeared as bidders for gold at London with such effect that they have absorbed most of the newly-mined African metal delivered at London since the first of the year. This week, on Tuesday, the Banks of France and Russia bid so urgently for the African gold that the price of the metal reached its highest record since 1909. Russia secured the greater supply of the gold.

"The eagerness of the Continental banks to increase their gold stock is not due to any monetary stringency; the quoted rates on the different money markets show that. That it is due to a general desire to fortify their reserve position against possible political contingencies is a statement that has been frequently made and that gives interest to the prospect of the future gold arrivals in London."

California's Mineral Product

Complete returns to the State Mining Bureau from ten of the forty odd mineral substances which California annually produces in commercial quantity show an increase in value of nearly $2,000,000. Partial returns from the other products on the list indicate that these gains will hold true in practically all the other minerals.

Full reports on all the mineral products of California are not expected before July. Those branches of the mineral industry from which complete answers have been received from all the operators are tabulated below with comparative values for 1912 and 1913. It will be seen that the increase in value is $1,819, 610 over 1912:

	1912	1913
Cement, barrels	$7,743,024	$6,074,661

Longest Transmission System

Contracts have been awarded by the Nevada-California Company for the construction of an electric transmission line from a connection with the Bishop Creek Power houses in Inyo County to El Centro the line running from San Bernardino via Banning. When built this line will be 166 miles in length and with it the connection with the Bishop Creek line will form the longest transmission system in the United States. The line will carry 57,000 volts and will supply power for a territory covering 500,000 square miles, containing a population of 50,000.

The company will complete the work on plant one on Bishop Creek this year, the plant being the largest on the stream, its generating power will be 10,000 kilowatt, the other plants being in units of 2500 kilowatts.

New Oil Find

It is reported that oil has been discovered in small quantities near Edison in Kern County. The discovery is said to have been made by E. W. McCutcheon, an operator in the West Side fields, on his ranch, which is situated on section 18, 30-30. The oil was found in a water well at a depth of 330 feet. There was not much of it, but the find was sufficient to cause some excitement in the vicinity. It is probable that another well may be drilled for the purpose of determining whether the oil exists in commercial quantities at a greater depth. About a mile from the McCutcheon well, small quantities of oil were found in a water hole three weeks ago. There has never been any oil development in the vicinity of Edison.

ORANGE IS AGAINST TELEPHONE PROPOSAL

Orange News: The Merchants & Manufacturers' Association of Orange filed a protest against the attempt on the part of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county to force a physical connection of the telephone companies of the county, in accordance with the complaint filed with the railroad commission.

"The Orange merchants took the stand that there is more to be lost through such an arrangement than there is to be gained by the majority of telephone users of the county, since there is a possibility that the companies will take away the free exchange privileges now enjoyed by the principal cities of the county.

The merchants instructed the secretary to prepare a protest and forward it to the secretary of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

For Sale or Exchange

I have 100 acres of land in the San Joaquin Valley, one and a quarter miles from a live little town with good schools, churches, water system, electric lights, and phone service. The land is a fine silt soil, very uniform, with no alkali or hard-pan spots. Is now in crop, part of it has a barley crop estimated at twenty sacks per acre, 15 acres alfalfa, 20 acres of fine sugar beets—can contract beets for five years. One share of water per acre. No better land in the valley for the price, $125 per acre, will divide into 40 or 60 acres. Will take clean, clear cottage property at fair value for part or all the purchase price. Courtesy to agents.

Drop me a line by mail arranging for interview. I am anxious to sell my home and will price it right. If interested come to 2220 North Main.

Also a great bargain in vacant Valencia or lemon land near Villa Park.

Am anxious to do business on any of these properties as I expect to devote all my time to my San Luis Obispo county interests.

Utah Copper Earnings

During the year ended December 31, 1913, the great Utah Copper Mine at Bingham, Utah, produced 113,942,834 pounds of red metal, for which the company received an average of 14.976 cents per pound. The balance shown available for dividends was $8,513,105, equal to $5.37 per share. This is an increase from $5.35 per share in 1912. After paying dividends amounting to $4,747,710 and charging off $507,712 for depreciation of plant, the net balance passed to undivided profits amounted to $3,257,682. The total number of shares of stock outstanding at the close of the year was 1,583,680. The value of undivided profits on December 31 was $9,708,654. ## Inspect Union Oil Properties

The Union Oil properties, which have been sold to the Western Ocean Syndicate and the British Union Syndicate, are being inspected by Earl Gray, former Governor-General of Canada and noted English peer. The man who heads the syndicate that has acquired control of the great oil company arrived in Los Angeles yesterday. He came from San Francisco, having arrived there from Australia Tuesday. He was met in San Francisco by W. L. Stewart, newly elected president of the Union Oil Company, and John Garrigue, treasurer of the company, and by Capt. John Barneson, president of the General Petroleum Company, and they escorted Lord Gray over the California Oil properties. Andrew Weir, who conducted the negotiations for the transfer of the Union Oil Company, met the Earl here, illness preventing his going to San Francisco.

The visit of Lord Gray and his inspection of the Union Oil properties disposes of the rumor that there had been a hitch or split in the syndicate which had made the purchase. This story became current when the General Petroleum Company, which has also been purchased by the syndicate, defaulted the May interest on its bonds. The fact is that Lord Gray, who will in all probability head the British Union Oil Company, Limited, which takes over Union Oil Company of California, is looking over the property, shows conclusively that everything is satisfactory.

Owing to the absence of several officials of the Union Oil Company, this week, the promised letter to the stockholders, which was to have been issued this week, has been delayed.

May Disbursements

Several of the great corporations in the United States in the disbursement of dividends this month exceed the million-dollar mark. The total dividends for the month aggregate $33,040,827 and of this amount six companies will contribute to their stockholders $15,668,157, or almost half of the big total. These companies follow:

	Rate	Stock Out.	Dividends
Great Northern pfd.	13%	$99,999,750	$3,774,329
Northern Pacific	13%	$28,000,000	4,340,000

Amalgamated Copper	14%	153,887,000	2,308,318

Brazil Tr. Lt. & Pr ord.	11%	102,000,000	1,545,000

The total dividend disbursement of more than thirty-three million dollars are based on a total capitalization of $1,867,073,455. In addition to the dividends to be disbursed interest payable in the month aggregates $81,670,513, a grand total for the month of $114,711,340. The grand total of every class of bonds outstanding upon which this $81,670,513 is paid amounts to $4,007,323,340. In detail the interest account follows:

	Capital	Disb'mts
Railroads	$1,543,972,000	$34,419,089
Industrial and miscellaneous	547,462,000	13,416,920

Blue Sky Law Indorsed

The blue sky law measure, which will be the subject of a referendum vote at the November election this year, was indorsed by the California Building and Loan League at its recent convention in Fresno. The league has a membership of 118 associations and represents $30,000,000 invested capital in California. Officers were elected at the meeting as follows: President, J. H. Hunter, Fidelity Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles; vice president, T. M. Gardiner, Citizens' Building and Loan, San Francisco; second vice president, C. E. Greaser, Home Builders' Loan Association, Pomona; treasurer, Fremont Wood, Citizens' Building and Loan Association, San Francisco; secretary, Leon E. Martin of Equitable, Berkeley. Depository, Canadian Bank of Commerce, San Francisco. Fifty delegates were present at the meetings.

California Oil in China

"The first cargo of crude oil from the United States imported into Hongkong for any purpose has just been received from its California supply depots by the largest American oil concern operating in the Far East," writes Consul-General Anderson, at Hongkong. Continuing, he says: "A part of the large installation of this concern in Hongkong has been given over to the storage of this oil and American oil is to be kept on the market all the time. There has been a steady and material increase in imports of fuel oil into Hongkong in the past three years. The records of the harbor master show imports in 1911 amounted to 17,700 tons, while in 1912 they had increased to 20,424 tons, and in 1913 the total imports were considerably higher, though the exact figures are not yet available. There has been an increase in the number of ocean-going vessels using crude oil fuel coming into Hongkong during the past three years and the increase in the number of motorboats for river and harbor traffic, particularly for use in the Pearl River and West River trade, using crude oil is one of the notable features of shipping development in South China. Heretofore the supply received in Hongkong has been from the Dutch East Indies.

"Imports of kerosene into the Hongkong field during 1913 were the largest in the history of the trade. Nearly all oil interests working on the lower Asiatic Coast have their headquarters for this part of the world in and control the trade from this port. According to the best commercial statistics available, the total trade in oil in Hongkong and the countries and ports tributary to it under this system, as measured by the amount going into consumption, amounted in 1913 to 111,051,240 gallons, as compared with a total of 83,347,000 gallons in 1912 and a high record of 89,104,000 gallons in 1910.

"The immense increase in imports into Hongkong marks the increasing disposition of the companies concerned to distribute supplies for various districts from this port. Owing to the fact that oil can be stored in the Far East at a minimum cost, exports to this field often are far above consumption, the actual amount transported varying greatly from year to year, and depending largely upon supply, demand and prices in other parts of the world. During 1913 both imports and actual consumption were large."

Building Up Gold Reserves

With two exceptions all the great State banks of Europe hold more gold at this time than at the opening of the year," says the New York Evening Post. "Those exceptions are the Banks of Switzerland and Norway. The Bank of France's gold is $27,235,000 more than on January 1, that of the Bank of Germany $28,730,000 more, and the Bank of Russia $27,325,000 more. Taking the totals of these three institutions, apart entirely from all others, it is seen that since the opening of the year $83,300,000 gold has been absorbed into their reserves; an amount equal to the bulk of the world's entire gold output of the period, which has been approximately $100,000,000.

"Two of these institutions, the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Russia, hold at the present time—because of their gold accumulations since the opening of the year—more gold than at any previous time in their existence. Yet these two, with the Bank of France, whose gold holdings are greater than at any previous time except 1899, have appeared as bidders for gold at London with such effect that they have absorbed most of the newly-mined African metal delivered at London since the first of the year. This week, on Tuesday, the Banks of France and Russia bid so urgently for the African gold that the price of the metal reached its highest record since 1909. Russia secured the greater supply of the gold.

"The eagerness of the Continental banks to increase their gold stock is not due to any monetary stringency; the quoted rates on the different money markets show that. That it is due to a general desire to fortify their reserve position against possible political contingencies is a statement that has been frequently made and that gives interest to the prospect of the future gold arrivals in London."

California's Mineral Product

Complete returns to the State Mining Bureau from ten of the forty odd mineral substances which California annually produces in commercial quantity show an increase in value of nearly $2,000,000. Partial returns from the other products on the list indicate that these gains will hold true in practically all the other minerals.

Full reports on all the mineral products of California are not expected before July. Those branches of the mineral industry from which complete answers have been received from all the operators are tabulated below with comparative values for 1912 and 1913. It will be seen that the increase in value is $1,819, 610 over 1912:

	1912	1913
Cement, barrels	$7,743,024	$6,074,661
Chromite, tons	12,700	11,369

Longest Transmission System

Contracts have been awarded by the Nevada-California Company for the construction of an electric transmission line from a connection with the Bishop Creek Power houses in Inyo County to El Centro the line running from San Bernardino via Banning. When built this line will be 166 miles in length and with it the connection with the Bishop Creek line will form the longest transmission system in the United States. The line will carry 57,000 volts and will supply power for a territory covering 500,000 square miles, containing a population of 50,000.

The company will complete the work on plant one on Bishop Creek this year, the plant being the largest on the stream, its generating power will be 10,000 kilowatt, the other plants being in units of 2500 kilowatts.

New Oil Find

It is reported that oil has been discovered in small quantities near Edison in Kern County. The discovery is said to have been made by E. W. McCutcheon, an operator in the West Side fields, on his ranch, which is situated on section 18, 30-30. The oil was found in a water well at a depth of 380 feet. There was not much of it, but the find was sufficient to cause some excitement in the vicinity. It is probable that another well may be drilled for the purpose of determining whether the oil exists in commercial quantities at a greater depth. About a mile from the McCutcheon well, small quantities of oil were found in a water hole three weeks ago. There has been any oil development in the vicinity of Edison.

For Sale or Exchange

I have 100 acres of land in the San Joaquin Valley, one and a quarter miles from a live little town with good schools, churches, water system, electric lights, and phone service. The land is a fine silt soil, very uniform, with no alkali or hard-pan spots. Is now in crop, part of it has a barley crop estimated at twenty sacks per acre, 15 acres alfalfa, 20 acres of fine sugar beets—can contract beets for five years. One share of water per acre. No better land in the valley for the price, $125 per acre, will divide into 40 or 60 acres. Will take clean, clear cottage property at fair value for part or all the purchase price. Courtesy to agents. Drop me a line by mail arranging for interview. I am anxious to sell my home and will price it right. If interested come to 2220 North Main. Also a great bargain in vacant Valencia or lemon land near Villa Park. Am anxious to do business on any of these properties as I expect to devote all my time to my San Luis Obispo county interests.

COMPTON IS SAFE, STORY IS AWAITED

"Harry and I are safe in Phoenix, Ariz. Will write."

This is the information received by wire. The message reached relatives of Harry Compton at Garden Grove, and gave assurance that Compton was alive, and not the victim of Mexican prison and bullets.

Several weeks ago a message was received by Compton's wife at Oakland, saying that he was about to be executed. No word was received from Compton from that time until the message reached Garden Grove last week. Washington authorities, urged by Compton's relatives in Garden Grove and Santa Ana, instituted investigations, and could find no trace of Compton, nothing to show that he has ever been in prison near Juarez.

While inconsistencies were pointed out, and there was suspicion that Compton was not on the Mexican side of the border, Compton's relatives maintained their search because it was possible that the story was misrepresented. Where Compton has been, what he has been doing, may be disclosed when the letter arrives. The telegram was sent by an old friend of Compton.

ENGLISH DISCUSS CITY PLANNING IN LONDON

LONDON, May 18.—For the purpose of exchanging knowledge on questions of national health and social conditions, delegates from all British "dominions beyond the seas" met here today with representatives of the British Isles in general conference at the Imperial Institute. This conference, which will continue in session for three days, is to be divided into two main sections, to discuss housing and town planning, and the care of child life. Committees will formulate reports on garden cities and suburbs, workmen's houses and model dwellings, infancy and health, the school child, and the child as a wage earner.

An interesting exhibition is being held in conjunction with the conference to illustrate the subjects under discussion, at which are shown models, plans and diagrams of real industrial towns, clothing, systems of diet, plans of schools, safety appliances, health statistics, kindergartens and nurseries. Lord Robert Cecil presided at the opening session of the conference, and the chairmanship of later sessions will be taken in turn by Sir Edward Cook, Prof. Michael Sadler and Henry Vivian.

CONGRESS FOR THRIFT

WASHINGTON, May 18.—If an appropriation of $50,000 can be obtained from the United States Congress an international congress for thrift will begin in San Francisco on April 21, 1915. The American Society for Thrift advances the novel argument that the $50,000 will result in the saving of $50,000,000 many times over.

AMERICAN TROOPS WILL EN BARK AT THIS DEPOT FOR MEXICO CITY

When the march to Mexico City begins, if such should be the decision of President Wilson after the efforts of the mediators in the Mexican war, the United States troops must leave Vera Cruz from this railroad station, into which both roads entering Vera Cruz run.

General Scott's troops, nearly seventy years ago, made the long journey of nearly 300 miles, but they had to climb over the mountains. The railroads between Vera Cruz and Mexico City have been torn up

EL TORO RECEPTION TO NEWLY WEDS

Big Crown Turns Out to Celebrate the Happy Occasion

EL TORO, May 18.—A social event that outlived any event that has taken place in El Toro for some time past, took place at Bert Hemenway's ranch two and one-half miles east of El Toro Wednesday evening, May 13.

The occasion was a chivari crowd celebrating the marriage of Mr. Roy Rumbold to Miss Adella McDonald, April 14, 1914, at Ventura, Calif. The gathering took place on the arrival of the bride and groom at Bert Hemenway's, the home of the groom's parents. Practically all of El Toro and vicinity was represented in the gay crowd which gathered about 9 p. m. They came in wagons, buggies, bicycles, motorcycles, and automobiles until there were by actual count eighty-six people present. Some of the rigors of the intense darkness which caused them to lose their way. Most of the ones losing their way, however, were young couples in buggies. The older married couples were not troubled in this way.

After the crowd gathered, a bonfire was built and lights were placed around the yard so that an old fashioned dance took place in the open where there was room to swing in quadrilles and square dances.

About 11 p. m. refreshments were served both in the open yard and in the house. Those who cared to play cards and indoor games enjoyed themselves in this way while others danced outside.

There were also wrestling matches of high class so that all persons there had amusement to suit them, and from appearances of the smiles on the faces of all, they enjoyed themselves.

Those present at the affair were: Messrs. and Mesdames H. A. Froelich, W. M. Gray and family, Harvey Bennett, Wm. Kelly, Eugene Ahern and family, Alfred Trapp and family, G. W. Conway, Wm. English and family, W. G. Olds, Levi Gockley and family, R. E. Hemenway and family; Mrs. John Rhodes and family, Mrs. S. J. When Will Santa Ana People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first. But if you find 'tis from the kidneys; That serious kidney troubles may follow: That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end. You will be glad to know the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Santa Ana citizen.

Mrs. J. M. Osgood, 516 Bush St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I suffered from pains throughout my body. I was nervous and couldn't get much rest at night. My finger joints were swollen and rheumatic. I felt miserable in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills proved to be just the medicine I needed. They drove away the pains and aches and toned up my system. Several times since, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have been satisfactory in every way. I give them credit for keeping me well. After I first used Doan's Kidney Pills, I publicly told of my experience and I can say that they are all they are claimed to be."

so much that the old were made young and the young still younger. The effect was like the mythical fountain of youth. Prominent among the wrestlers were Fred Rubis and Tom Ahern, the El Toro champion.

The bride and groom were very much surprised, and of course a little excited in about the same degree that all are who go through the same experience. El Toro is expecting other excitement of this kind soon.

Mr. Rumbold is a prosperous and popular young farmer. The gifts that were presented the young married couple show the esteem in which they are held. Among the many presents was a check for $50 from Aaron Buchheim, Mr. Rumbold's uncle.

The crowd appreciated very much the kindly spirit of Mr. and Mrs. Hemenway in preparing for this gathering. A short time after the opening and viewing of the presents the crowd started home after spending one of the most delightful evenings on the local records, and while none were lost on the road home there was some excitement, as the trip home was turned into a chariot race referred by Claude Sleeper, Conway acting as pilot with a torch. The race was won by Harry Froelich with a wagon load of singers comprising a mixed quartette, which enlivened the trip by singing some old love songs. The singing was interrupted, however, when one of Warren Gray's mules turned back and started for San Diego while the other was headed for Los Angeles. Had it not been for this delay he might have won the race.

Those present at the affair were: Messrs. and Mesdames H. A. Froelich, W. M. Gray and family, Harvey Bennett, Wm. Kelly, Eugene Ahern and family, Alfred Trapp and family, G. W. Conway, Wm. English and family, W. G. Olds, Levi Gockley and family, R. E. Hemenway and family; Mrs. John Rhodes and family, Mrs. S. J. ORANGE BOLD BURGLAR GOT JEWELRY

Walked Into Room Next to Porch Where Man and Woman Were Asleep

ORANGE, May 18.—A bold burglar robbed a room and ate a meal at the home of Bert Syster, 253 South Olive street, last night, and most of the time he was within a few feet of Mr. and Mrs. Syster, who were asleep upon a screen porch.

The thief walked in through the back door of the house, the door having been left unlocked. Syster and his wife were asleep on a sleeping porch off their bedroom. The burglar walked into the bedroom, and carried away a burned wood jewel box, containing a watch, three rings and a purse with a small amount of money in it. The property was worth $25 or $30.

The visitor was hungry. At the cupboard he helped himself to a bowl of mush, which he ate, and he drank enough milk to keep him for some time. It is thought that the burglar was a hobo.

After the crowd gathered, a bonfire was built and lights were placed around the yard so that an old fashioned dance took place in the open where there was room to swing in quadrilles and square dances.
About 11 p. m. refreshments were served both in the open yard and in the house. Those who cared to play cards and indoor games enjoyed themselves in this way while others danced outside.
There were also wrestling matches of high class so that all persons there had amusement to suit them, and from appearances of the smiles on the faces of all, they enjoyed themselves.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

TWELVE MADE INTO CITIZENS

One Needs More Reading, Five Must Start Over, Another Gone
This morning twelve men renounced all allegiance to foreign princes, potentates and powers, and swore allegiance to the Stars and Stripes. These twelve men were put through an examination by Frederick Jones, federal naturalization examiner, and Judge West, and they showed themselves qualified for citizenship in the land of their adoption. County Clerk Williams issued final papers of naturalization to the following: George Robert Parker, Santa Ana; Joseph Bricke, Orange; Emil Miller, Orange; Harry Max Wichers, Placentia; C. H. M. Sutherland, Anaheim; Frank Carl Wick, Anaheim; William Lionel Roberts, East Newport; Chas. Edwin Johnson, Westminster; Egbert Jacobs Primus, Anaheim; John Schlar, Anaheim; Harry Jentges, Garden Grove; Johann Baptist Madlener, Orange.

There were nineteen in the class set down for examination today. Twelve got through. P. G. Fink, John Millbank, Maurice C. Phillips, Bernard Davis and J. M. Carter failed because in each case the two witnesses named in the petitions had not known the applicant continuously for five years or more. In those five cases the petitions were dismissed with the right of the petitioners to start over again.
The petition of John J. Allee was continued to November 16, Allee failing to meet the educational qualifications.
The petition of C. W. Appleby for naturalization was dismissed. Appleby has gone back to England to live, and decided to remain a citizen of the country of his birth.
